Bobby Jones Finishes First 18 Holes Of 36 Hole Match 7 Up On Gene Homans

JONES' VICTORY ALMOST CONCEDED

Will Be Fourth Championship For Jones In One Year —New Record

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Writer

MERION CRICKET CLUB, South Ardmore, Pa., Sept. 27.—Bobby Jones, master golfer, today virtually clinched the national amateur golf championship by finishing the first 18 holes of the final round 7 up on Gene Homans, of New York.

Thus, it seemed that Jones was to win the fourth championship of the year. He already had three championships, two in England and one here. This morning he left not the slightest doubt that he was going to win his fourth.

Golfing Miracle

Three titles meant a record that no man has ever equalled. Four titles meant a miracle. To a gallery of 6,000 the routine of the thing seemed hardly worth while. Jones was simply too good, as he has been in winning 12 championships since 1923. Homans tried. But Homans, trying, was merely the spectacle of the young man who strove to defeat an automation.

The only holes that Homans was able to win were the seventh and the seventeenth, the rest of them being halved or were victories for Jones and finally the matter became so absurd that the gallery began to go home and leave this final round which was not to give it the thrill that it sought.

Not Up To Form

Jones, at that, was not the typical Jones on the first nine holes. He took 39 strokes to the turn, but so badly flustered was Homans, sole survivor (Continued On Page Two)

PA NEW OBSERVES

Despite the decree of fashion that felt hats should be in vogue, Pa. New observes Friday that plenty of them around the city. No pre-Hallowe'en stuff will be tolerated by the police, it is announced. And by the way, any plans as yet for a city-wide celebration of the last night of October?

Some of the city's "no parking" signs, it is noticed, have become either dilapidated or separated from their stands. Several need to be placed in shape again.

Real fall weather greeted New Castle residents this morning, a snappy tang being noticeable. The temperature experienced quite a sudden drop during the night.

Daylight savings ends tonight in many communities in the United States, but New Castle residents will not have to worry about setting their clocks back, as they discontinued the observance here the first of October.

The heavy wind last night must have rattled several thousand windows in local homes, and if the window rattling made much noise at other homes at it did at the adobe of Young (Continued On Page Two)

He is going into three or four states where the coming election is very hot, and going to make speeches, not political speeches, but nevertheless they are in those states. But even if he talks on the evils of the Cal-neva, why it will be construed as political.

Funny thing about us, we will listen to any old shyster politician that comes along to advise us, but we just won't trust any of our presidents, when we think they are trying to tell us who to elect.

Conference On Burton Plant Route Planned

Chamber Of Commerce Calls Meeting With County And Railroad Officials

WOULD ELIMINATE FIVE TRACK CROSSING

J. S. Burton Accepts Invitation To Attend Meeting Here October 2

Director of the New Castle Chamber of Commerce, together with President J. S. Burton of Burton Explosives, Inc., officials of the Pennsylvania, B. & O., and E. & A. roads, and city and county officials, will hold a conference in The Castleton on Thursday, October 2, relative to providing a safer route to the Burton plant, now under the course of construction at Covert's Station.

There are two routes to the plant which can be used. One is by way of West Washington street, from the diamond, which consists of two and three-quarter miles of gravel and one and one-quarter miles of paved street. The other is by way of the Mt. Jackson road three miles of which are paved and two and one-quarter miles of which are earth road.

Crossing Is Menace

While the West Washington street route is much shorter, there is a maze of tracks to be crossed at Covert's Station, where the B. & O. has a double track, the Pennsylvania four tracks, the P. & L. E. two tracks, and the street car track. One of these tracks is protected by a flasher system, while the others are entirely unprotected.

It has been suggested that the county join with the road supervisors of North Beaver and Mahoning towns in slaying that portion of the road between the foot of Mt. Jackson hill and Covert's Station, working toward the ultimate paving thereof. If this were done, 90 per cent of the hazard at Covert's Station would be entirely eliminated, and traffic would be (Continued On Page Two)

Chicago Ex-Aviator Kills His Father

Believe World War Ace Was Shell-Shocked And Mind Deranged—Plotted To Kill Nurse

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Sept. 27.—Police today blame the shell-shocked mind of a war aviator for a double murder plot which was halted after the veteran shot and killed his 83-year-old father, Rockwell Sayre, wealthy realty broker.

Producing a five page confession in which he said he had written three days ago, Sydney Sayre, 37, admitted the slaying when taken in custody last night.

The written confession outlined a belief held by the former aviator that a romance existed between his father and the nurse who was attending his dying mother. In the confession young Sayre revealed his intention of killing the nurse, Miss Alma Zschachner.

Two Vessels On Lake Michigan Sink In Storm

Eleven Believed Dead And Missing As Result Of Severe Storm On Great Lakes

GUARDSMEN ARE SEARCHING LAKE

Four Members Of Stone Barge Unaccounted For Freighter Is Overdue

(International News Service)
Eleven persons missing, the bodies of two drowned men washed ashore and two ships wrecked and one missing was the known toll today of a cyclonic storm that carried death and destruction across the Great Lakes late yesterday.

A coastguard lifeboat from Ludington, Mich., at first reported missing, rode out of the heavy storm, and with her prow crushed in, managed to make harbor at Two Rivers, Wis., early today. The crew of seven reported a desperate all-night struggle with the elements.

Two Men Rescued

Muskegon, Mich., Sept. 27.—Lashed to the derrick boom of a sunken stone barge off shore here, two men clung to life through a raging storm until they were rescued this morning by a coast guard crew.

The two men, members of the crew of the stone barge Salvor which went down with a loss of at least five lives were Harry Smith and Lyman Nadeau both of this city. Chester Lane, also of Muskegon who was lashed with them to the derrick boom, died of exposure at 2 o'clock this morning.

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Sept. 27.—Seven persons believed dead and two ships sent to the bottom was the toll today of a driving storm which swept Lake Michigan during the past twenty four hours. Search for the bodies of four members of the stone barge Salvor's crew was being pressed today off Muskegon, Mich., when the men had not been accounted for.

Although the wind had subsided today a sea was still running high.

Leechburg Slayer Believed Held By Indiana Officers

Constable William Raper, Accused Of Slaying Joseph Conto Will Be Questioned

(International News Service)
LEECHBURG, Pa., Sept. 27.—Chief of Police Martin M. O'Leary and Charles Best, Armstrong county detective, left here by automobile early today for a hurried trip to Gary, Ind., where Constable William Raper, of this city, was reported being held in connection with the brutal murder of Joseph Conto, 38, wealthy soft drink manufacturer.

According to reports here, Raper denounced his detention as a "frame-up" in a telephone conversation with Chief O'Leary from Gary last night.

Widow Questioned

Questioning of the slain man's wife, Mrs. Jennie Conto, was continued here today pending the arrival of Raper who was reported ready to waive extradition proceedings.

Conto's body was found in a patch of woodland near here on Thursday. The top of his head had been blown off by a shotgun charge. Police expressed the belief that Conto had been "taken for a ride" and murdered in the lonely section where his body was found.

Mrs. Conto, separated from her husband for the last two months, had filed a suit for divorce in Armstrong county courts. The case had not yet been heard.

LITTLE WAMPUM GIRL AUTO MISHAP VICTIM

BARRED FROM SCHOOL

(Special To The News)
WAMPUM, Pa., Sept. 27.—Florence, the little three year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Bennett of Main street, was instantly killed this morning about 8:30 o'clock, when accidentally struck by the car of Charles F. Morrow.

The little accident victim and her small brother, Lawrence, aged 2 years, were walking down Main street, to the home of their grandparents, a short distance away on the same street. They had to cross Railroad street intersection on the way.

As they were crossing the street, the little girl stepped directly in the rear of the car of Charles F. Morrow, who after driving out of Railroad street onto Main street, was backing up to allow a car to pass along Main street. She was knocked down and the wheel of the car went over her neck, causing instant death. The little brother was not hurt. Mrs. Morrow was in the car with her husband.

Coroner J. P. Caldwell was notified at once and is conducting the investigation, incident to the case.

The child is survived by her parents and two brothers. Funeral arrangements have not yet been completed.

Funeral Sunday For Miss Miller

Accident Victim To Be Buried In Beaver Falls Cemetery

FUNERAL SERVICE AT GRIFFITHS HOME

The body of Miss Louise Miller of Philadelphia, who was killed Thursday evening in an automobile accident near Youngstown, will be brought to this city today and taken to the home of I. B. Griffiths, 526 West Washington street, where funeral services will be held Sunday at two p. m., with Dr. W. E. McClure, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, officiating. Interment will be made in Grandview cemetery at Beaver Falls.

The sisters of Miss Miller are so upset over the accident that the details seemed like a nightmare, although it is learned that the three sisters, Mrs. C. J. Lund, Miss Frances Miller and Miss Louise, were driving along near Youngstown in a coupe, Miss Louise at the wheel, when a driver made a left turn immediately in front of them, for no apparent reason, there being no street at the point, not giving any warning of what he was going to do, consequently Miss Miller smashed into the side of the car. Both her arms were badly fractured and the wheel crashed in her chest. She lived about an hour after the accident, but her lungs were so badly injured her death was but a matter of a short time. Mrs. C. J. Lund of Akron had her leg badly fractured and is in the Youngstown hospital; Miss Frances of Washington, D. C., received no fractures. (Continued On Page Two)

Engineering Works Receives Big Contract

Will Build Open Hearth Furnace And Big Mixers For Ford Co.

LARGEST FURNACE IN UNITED STATES

Work Will Start On New Contracts At Local Plant At Once

W. S. Wheeler, vice president and general manager of the Pennsylvania Engineering Works announced today that his company had been awarded a large contract from the Ford Motor Company which will keep the plant running for the balance of this year and with the other contracts on hand will keep the plant operating well into 1931.

The contracts from the Ford Company call for the construction of two 600 ton mixers of a new and improved design, and a 400 ton tilting open hearth furnace. The open hearth furnace will be the largest one ever constructed in America. All of the work is to be manufactured here, and fabricated and erected at the Ford plant in Detroit.

Contract For Designs.

At the same time it is announced that the Pennsylvania Engineering Works has received a contract for the designs of mixers and special equipment for the foundry being erected in Dagenham, England. This is purely an engineering contract, calling as it does for just the designs.

The equipment to be manufactured here will be used by the Ford Motor Company in their new program for scrapping automobiles. At the present time the company is scrapping old cars at the rate of $25 per day. The new equipment will make it possible to scrap cars at a rate of $100 per day. (Continued On Page Two)

NEW BUS LINE STARTS MONDAY

Harmony To Start New Line From Pittsburgh To New Castle

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 27.—Bus service between Pittsburgh and New Castle, via Zelenople and Ellwood City will be inaugurated by the Harmony Short Line Motor Transportation Company Monday, it was announced here today.

This route, 13 miles shorter than the trip via Butler, will require two hours. Four round trips are to be made daily, according to Davis I. McCahill, president of the company.

Schedules, McCahill said, have been drawn up so as to make connections with coach lines in New Castle for Youngstown, Sharon, Cleveland and other points.

Passengers from Pittsburgh will board the buses at the Harmony station or any downtown bus terminals for other lines.

Armistice Day Committee Meets

Plans Going Forward For Tri-County Observance In New Castle

BUGLE CORPS CONTEST TO BE BIG FEATURE

Executive Committee of the Tri-County Armistice Day celebration to be held here Tuesday, November 11th, held a very enthusiastic meeting Friday at the office of L. B. Round, the general chairman.

Chairman Phil Greer of the finance committee reported the finances of the affair well in hand indicating that everything planned will be carried out as planned.

The committee announced that no decorating firm would be endorsed and that it was the consensus of opinion that no merchants or other persons would be required to decorate other than with the American flag and such decorations as they themselves felt disposed to use. The hope was expressed however, that every place of business and every home of the city would have at least an American flag on display on that day.

Invitations that had been prepared were approved and ordered sent out to various posts of the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Spanish War Veterans and such other service and patriotic and civic organizations throughout the state and adjoining sections of the state of Ohio.

The music and parade committees were also authorized to send questionnaires to the posts of these various organizations seeking information as to the number expected in the drum and bugle corps competition and parade, in order that it might be known just what to depend on in those events and also make it possible to determine how many visitors are to be fed.

Stationery to be used by the various committees in required correspondence was also authorized.

It was announced that the Federation of Women's Clubs had been designated to get action in the matter of window decorations for which prizes have been offered and for floats in the parade for which awards of merit will be given.

The committee on the military ball was designated as follows: Ivo Davis, chairman, George Candiotti, W. S. Lewis and Gordon Klein.

The general chairman was authorized to get in touch with the heads of the state police and state highway patrol and ask for men of both groups for the day also assistance in diverting through traffic around the city so as not to interfere with the parade.

The securing of the cathedral auditorium, ball room and dining room for the date was also approved.

The stadium at Targert Field is to be sought for use during the drum and bugle corps competition. Dr. W. Fulton Jackson was authorized to get in touch with various national guard units and seek their presence here.

The members of the committee present included General Chairman Rounds, Glenn Berry, Malcolm Cox, Orville Potter, H. K. Bell, John D. Kennedy, W. S. Lewis, Ivo Davis, Dr. W. Fulton Jackson.

THE BLINKS COMPANY called up the fuel concern with whom it always had done business and asked for the immediate delivery of several tons of coal. The coal company had a truck available, but there was no driver at hand. In the coal yard behind the office there were several hangers-on waiting for an opportunity to go along in the hope of unloading a load of coal. One of these seemed to sense the situation, and persuaded the yard boss to let him deliver the coal, which in the meantime, had already been loaded into the truck. The hanger-on soon was in the truck and on his way to deliver the coal. All this was done without the knowledge of the head of the company.

Soon, the hanger-on came back and reported delivery of the coal. The manager at first resented the fact that he had taken the truck out, but at last said, "All right," and paid him for the delivery.

Soon, however, a telephone call came from the customer saying that the delivery man, in unloading the coal, had broken a large plate glass window and that he would expect the coal company to pay for it. The manager listened respectfully and answered that the man was not an employee of the company and had delivered the coal without the authority of the company. Thus he was not agent of the company and so the company did not feel responsible for the accident. This did not appease the Blinks concern and it filed suit.

How would you decide this case? Make up your mind before you read the decision. (Decision will be found on Classified page.)

PA New, no one could have had more than their allotted 8 hours snooze.

Does anyone remember riding the first trip on Bill Brown's trolley car?

Two flower growers in the employ of the New Castle post office exhibited bouquets of beauty today. For master Crawford's desk was adorned with flowers donated by J. M. Hook of the Frew Mill road, while Frank Shergar, Gardner Stop, brought attractive orchids and white asters for the clerk force.

New Castle and Lawrence County's fatal accident list for the past week is about the heaviest in its history for any single week. Almost every day this week added another death to the accident list in the city or county.

Philadelphia and St. Louis will battle it out for the world's series, starting at Philadelphia next week.

PA New noticed while thumbing through the city directory, that the first person's name listed is that of Joseph Abbadando, home street and the last name listed is Veronica Zywar, Sumner avenue.

Several women were wearing white Panama hats down town yesterday, so we guess it is permissible for women to keep the straws on during September and if so, why not allow men to wear them?

Several days ago the traffic light at the corner of Atlantic avenue and East Washington street was removed, and motorists certainly are relieved about it. The light was a nuisance after Grant street was opened to traffic.

Remember, people, to save a can of pears, a glass of peach, quince, or apple jelly, some vegetables and fruit to present to the Jameson Memorial hospital on October 31 and November 1, donation days. The hospital aid society is doing its best to make the food donation days a big success. If everybody does his bit it will make a lot of patients at New Castle's own hospital very happy.

Every motorist should tie a bright red ribbon around the little finger of the right hand before driving through Harrisburg, whether traveling on Slippery Rock route or the Perry highways. That crossing there is dangerous if you don't remember to stop.

Overcoats made their appearance on the streets today. The weather was just a trifle fall like, and the coats felt good.

Rather interesting condition when a constable enters council to complain about police protection in his ward. PA Newc opine.

There was a double rainbow in the eastern sky during the sunshiny shower about 4:30 o'clock Friday afternoon. The main rainbow was a beautiful picture.

It seemed to PA Newc that every auto driver on the North Hill must have decided to come downtown about 7:30 o'clock last night. PA Newc was held up at the intersection of Wallace avenue and Highland while probably 75 autos passed in a solid string going down Highland. The cars were probably enroute to the football game. Noted Henry Druschel out on the sidewalk viewing the parade as we waited for the procession to pass.

ashore fourteen miles north of Muskegon. They were identified as Lorie Olmstead, 9-year-old boy, and Lyman Medcou of Muskegon, a member of the barge's crew.

Two other men, lashed to the derrick, projecting above the high waves, were thought dead. Six persons on the barge were washed ashore alive in life preservers. Two of these were women, Mrs. Ida Olmstead and Alice LaPlante.

Guardmen Beaten Back Coast guardmen who sought to reach the men tied to the barge's derrick were beaten back by waves and strong wind.

The freighter William Nelson succeeded in taking off the crew of seven from the schooner Our Son which sank twenty miles off Ludington, Mich., at the gale's height.

The Our Son was the last commercial sailing vessel flying the Great Lakes and was commanded by Fred Nelson, 73-year-old veteran.

40-Mile Gale Hindered by a forty mile an hour gale which was still blowing coast guardmen this morning were attempting to reach the grounded barge, just 150 yards from shore. Attempts to shoot a life line to the wreckage with a small cannon were abandoned at nightfall after several shots fell short. Rescuers still held to the possibility that the missing men were clinging to the battered barge.

The stone barge grounded yesterday after the cable connecting it with the tug Fitzgerald parted and left the loaded barge adrift and powerless. Heavily laden with stone, the craft floundered and sunk.

Freighter Missing Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 27.—Grave concern was felt here at an early hour today for the freighter North Shore which was due at 5 p. m. yesterday, but as yet had not put in at her dock.

Captained by Irving Anderson, the North Shore had Anderson's wife aboard and a crew of five men when it put out in Lake Michigan during the storm yesterday.

Six coast guardmen who battled yesterday's storm for five hours arrived in port at Two Rivers, Wis., last night. Waves had battered in the prow of their cutter. They had put out in answer to a distress signal from the schooner Our Son which sank in the storm.

JONES HAS FINE LEAD TODAY IN PLAY FOR TITLE

of an original field of 137, that he was three down to an opponent who was below normal. Homans had a great chance on this nine but he couldn't take advantage of it and with his failure to do so, went the last "kick" that could possibly be left in this tournament.

For Jones was himself in the inward nine. In fact, to Homans he seemed like himself and two other guys. He became 4 up with a winning par 4 at the tenth. At the eleventh he sank a 25-foot putt for a winning birdie. Another winning birdie followed at the fifteenth to make the master craftsman 7 up. This was a 3 which Homans conceded, and then suffered the ignominy of watching Jones knock the six foot putt in with one hand. Jones played this inward nine with 33 strokes, one under par, and the only hole which saw him fail to be at his absolute best was at the seventeenth, where he himself conceded Homans put for a birdie.

The impending defeat of Homans might have been even more certain if the young man from Manhattan had not sunk a 16 foot putt for a half at the eighteenth. In addition it would have been worse, too, except that he laid Jones successive symies at the seventh and eighth holes, the former giving him a win and the latter a half. In other words, Homans had everything with him but unfortunately he had Jones against him and that was too much. Their 18 hole cards follow:

Jones: Out—4 6 3 5 5 4 5 4 3—39 In—4 3 3 4 3 4 4 4—33—72. Homans: Out—5 6 4 6 5 4 4 4 4—42 In—5 4 4 3 5 5 5 2 4—37—79.

expedited. Although this road would be a little longer, it is believed that better time could be made between the diamond and the Powder plant than over the West Washington street route.

It is also pointed out that there is a bridge over the Mahoning river and a low spot between the 3. & O. and Pennsylvania tracks at Covert's Station, which is frequently flooded during high water in the spring of the year, whereas the other route is entirely out of the flood area.

It is expected that some definite solution to the problem will be worked out at this meeting.

DONNELLY HONORED AT BIG CONFERENCE

M. J. Donnelly who has been attending a big conference of representatives of all insurance societies at Royal York Hotel, Toronto, Can., was honored in being asked to repeat on Friday in the main program of the conference, an address given on Thursday before the Million Dollar Producers of all companies. He and Mrs. Donnelly will return here the first of the week.

Railroad and industrial safety men of the New Castle district are making ready today to attend sessions of the National Safety Congress, which opens in Pittsburgh Monday morning and continue for three days. Hundreds of different conferences are planned.

The Pennsylvania railroad and other roads here will likely send representatives.

STAR LORE A GLANCE AT THE OCTOBER EVENING SKY

By Arthur DeV. Carpenter

The evening sky in October displays the summer stars now shifting well to the west—the Eagle, the Swan, the Lyre; Pegasus is getting well up toward zenith, while off in the east the winter stars are just beginning to make their appearance; Taurus with his red eye; Aldebaran, just coming up in the northeast, while still farther north appears Capella, a distinguished star among the outstanding stars of the entire heavens. A constellation just appearing in the southeast is Cetus, containing the famous variable star, Mira. This star varies in brightness from the invisible to the unaided eye, to 1.7 magnitude in the course of 331 days.

Deaths of the Day

Earl Benjamin Metz, aged 30, of 638 West Dewey avenue, Youngstown, Ohio, died in the Southside Unit of the Youngstown hospital Friday at 1:15 p. m. following an illness of four months.

He was born in New Middletown, O., July 16, 1900, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Metz; he was graduated from the Petersburg High school and on October 13, 1924 married Viola Goers, who, with a son, Carl, and his parents, and a sister, Mrs. T. R. Montgomery, survives him.

He was a member of the Zion Lutheran church of New Middletown, O., and up until the time of his illness had been employed as a bottom maker in the Youngstown Sheet and Tube company.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 2 p. m. from the residence, with Rev. J. S. C. Fowler, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church of Youngstown officiating. Interment will be made in Zion cemetery at New Middletown.

Richard D. Griffiths, son of Samuel and Elizabeth Griffiths, was born in Brynhyfryd, South Wales, September 9, 1874 and died in the New Castle hospital September 26, 1930. He came to the United States thirty years ago and was united in marriage to Margaret Ann James in June 1898, since that year the family has lived in New Castle where Mr. Griffiths had been in the continuous employ of the American Steel and Tin Plate Company.

For many years he has been a member of the First Congregational church of this city as well as one of the church trustees, being also an active and faithful member of the Men's Bible Class. He took an active interest in the New Castle Glee Society and was a member of the Star of Wales Lodge and the Modern Woodmen of America.

He is survived by his wife, one son Trevor Griffiths and four daughters, Mrs. E. E. Branstetter, Mrs. Russell Magill, Mrs. Frank Conway, of New Castle and Mrs. Stanley Clarke of Youngstown, two brothers and a sister in Wales and a host of friends and acquaintances who will mourn the loss of a man of the highest ethical and moral character, who has always been held in the highest respect and esteem by all who knew him.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 4 p. m. from the family residence, 426 Atlantic street, with interment in Oak Park cemetery.

Mrs. Fasano Funeral. Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Fasano were held from St. Vincent church at 9 a. m. today with requiem mass read by Rev. Fr. Donatelli.

Palibearers were John Bunhill, Enrico Faghente, Leonardo Pazzilazzo, Pasquale Tempesta, Clemente Giagola and Tony Mazzach. Interment was made in St. Vitus cemetery.

Deloris Moffit. Deloris, the eight-month-old daughter of Lester and Ada Melhime Moffit, died Friday at 9 a. m. at the family home in East New Castle after a short illness.

She was born in Butler January 15, 1920 and is survived by her parents and the following brothers and sisters: Richard, Raymond, Robert, James, Donald, Connie and Marda. Funeral services will be held Monday at 1 p. m. from the residence of H. L. Dawson, East New Castle, and interment will be made in Butler, Pa.

Funeral services for Wenona Lowers, 902 West State street, were held from the family home Friday afternoon with Rev. G. M. Landis, pastor of the First Baptist church, in charge. The house would not hold all the friends, neighbors and relatives who had come to pay their last respects to one whom they had held dear in life.

Rev. Richard Owey of the Peoples mission preached the funeral sermon and Mrs. Stanley Reese sweetly sang "Christian's Goodnight" and "Sometime We'll Understand."

Interment was made in Clinton cemetery, and pallbearers were Guy Withrow, Hobart Mead, L. S. Cacereno, Arthur Brunton, Louis Dean and Stanley Reese.

Mrs. Donnan Funeral. The auditorium of the First Presbyterian church was filled with mourning relatives and friends Friday afternoon, when at four o'clock funeral services were conducted for Mrs. E. A. Donnan, who as a girl was Ada Barker.

A profusion of beautiful floral tributes were artistically arranged about the pulpit and surrounding the body of Mrs. Donnan by loving hands as the last earthly mark of their love and esteem.

As desired by Mrs. Donnan, as the friends were gathering, Mrs. Paul Browne Patterson, with whom for many years she had been associated in the church softly and expressively played on the pipe organ Mrs. Donnan's favorite hymns.

Also in accord with Mrs. Donnan's wishes, her nephew, Rev. Arthur A. Hays, D.D., Professor of Church History in the Presbyterian (formerly McCormick) Seminary of Chicago, conducted the services. In a beautiful tribute to "Aunt Ada's" personality and character, he dwelt especially upon her steady faithfulness in all the relations of life, her unflinching cheerfulness and courage no matter how hard the road, and her ability to inspire these in others.

The pallbearers were Robert M. McBurney, John H. Lamb, James F. Wallace, Frank Haydon, Everett McNeese, Lee R. Gordon, Louis H. Gordon, Rufus Allen and George Muse. These gentlemen are the surviving members of a class of young men of the Sabbath school of the First Presbyterian church which Mrs. Donnan taught back in the early nineties. She told one of them that when her time came to go she wanted "her boys" to act as pallbearers. Ten years ago she addressed a letter to her son-in-law, W. M. Wardrop, confirming this and giving a list of their names. In addition to the above, the list contained the names of Frank W. Smith and L. M. Uber, since deceased.

Among those present from out of town were Dr. W. N. Bailey of East Liverpool, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Thos. J. Armstrong of Leesburg, Pa.; Mrs. Jessie R. McGoun and Miss Elizabeth McKean of Meersburg, Pa.; Mrs. Tade Hartuff of Kuhn of Berkeley Springs, W. Va.; O. J. Hartuff of the Edgar Thompson Steel Works, Braddock, Pa., and the following nieces and nephews of Washington, Pa.: Mr. and Mrs.

WOMEN'S OVERSEAS UNIT MEETS FRIDAY

A meeting of the recently organized unit of the Women's Overseas Service League was held last evening at the home of Mrs. S. H. Rhoads, Hilten Apartment, Wallace avenue. It was decided that the unit should be known as the Lawrence County Unit, Women's Overseas Service League. All details in the application for the charter were also completed. A letter of congratulations from Mrs. Mildred Laubels, San Francisco, Cal., national president, sent to Mrs. H. K. Beal, local president, was read during the business session.

The letter stated that the national president was planning a tour of the east and would be in Pittsburgh Sunday. Plans were made at the meeting last night to send a delegate to Pittsburgh Sunday to meet with the national president. Due to the fact that her time in this section is limited she could not come here.

Invitation extended the members of the local unit to be present Sunday evening at six o'clock at the tea being tendered the national president by the Pittsburgh unit, at the home of Mrs. Flora Laughlin, 150 Penn avenue was also presented and members here who are able to do so, will attend the event.

Plans were also made for the participation of the unit in the "Pittsburgh Day" program being planned by the ex-service men of Lawrence, Butler and Mercer counties.

At the conclusion of the business session, dainty refreshments were served by the hostess.

DESSERT-BRIDGE IS ENJOYED BY CLUB

Members of the Y. O. A. Girls Club met Friday at the home of Mrs. Raymond Rhodes on Sumner avenue when she entertained at a dessert-bridge. Garden flowers were used in profusion throughout the home, making it most attractive. The club had Mrs. Carl Norris as a special guest of the occasion.

Cards being the feature, were enjoyed and at the conclusion of play it was discovered success awards were won by Mrs. Milton Marshall and Mrs. Anna Wagner.

On the evening of Wednesday, October 8 the club will meet with Mrs. G. Wilford Thomas on Sumner Ave.

G. H. M. Class Meets.

The G. H. M. class of the Central Presbyterian church opened the activities of the fall with a 6:30 tureen dinner Friday evening at the home of Mrs. George McClelland, Pine street. The table was beautifully arranged with many fall flowers placed effectively through the center and places laid for 19 members and four visitors. A delicious menu was served, after which the members held a regular meeting.

Mrs. Margaret Bechtol, a missionary from Virginia, who is visiting in the city, gave a splendid talk on the work done in that state and a play period introduced many new games and contests, prizes being won by Marjory McCandless and Margaret Ruthraff.

October 31 will mark the date of the next meeting.

Penn-Power Bridge Club

The Penn-Power Girls' Bridge Club gathered at the P. and O. assembly rooms Friday evening for their second meeting. Cards formed the chief diversion and at the conclusion of play Mrs. Wilbur McCullough was awarded the prize for holding honors. Twelve were present, including Miss Esther James of the Ellwood City P. and O. office, who was a special guest of the club.

Plans were completed for a masquerade party to be held in two weeks at the P. and O. hall and with the many plans in progress it promises to be a gay event.

ANNIVERSARY HONORED WITH TUREN DINNER

Among the very pleasant affairs of last evening was the tureen dinner given by Section 19 of the Needle-Work Guild at the home of their president, Mrs. S. J. Callahan, on Moody avenue in honor of her 30th wedding anniversary.

After a delicious dinner was served Mrs. W. C. McCalmont in a few well chosen words presented Mrs. Callahan with two beautiful modernistic vases. The bride of 30 years ago was also the recipient of a flower shower until her home was a bower of roses and garden blooms.

During the evening splendid readings were given by Mrs. E. C. Beahm, Mrs. W. C. McCalmont and Virginia Callahan.

The committee in charge of the serving included Mrs. J. Elder Bryan, Mrs. Bert Mullen, Mrs. E. C. Beahm and Mrs. Roy Todd.

NOUS-A-MON GIRLS MAKE MANY PLANS

The Nous A Mon Girls club met at the home of Mrs. Edward McClelland at 726 County Line street Friday evening with Miss Jessie Harper as associate hostess.

A business session was held when plans were completed for a bake sale to be held on Saturday, October 4. The committee in charge comprised Mrs. Ella Nowling, Mrs. Adria Woods, Mrs. Jessie Harper, Mrs. Katherine McClelland. Another event that plans were made for is a rummage sale which will occur on November 1 with the following ladies in charge: Miss Jessie Harper, Mrs. Ella Nowling and Mrs. Adria Woods.

Wednesday evening, October 1, at 7:30 o'clock, the members and their friends will enjoy a roller skating party at the Ne-Ca-Hi beach. At the close of this feature the party will go to the home of Mrs. Edward McClelland on County Line street for a wiener roast. Those who have charge of the arrangements are Mrs. Ella Nowling, Miss Jessie Harper, Miss Anna Patterson and Mrs. Kathryn McClelland.

A period of bridge and keno brought the evening to a close, with the favors being awarded to Miss Anna Patterson and Mrs. Myrtle Nab.

The next regular meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Adria Woods with Miss Georgia Meyers as joint hostess on Tuesday evening, October 21.

Birthday Surprise

Mrs. E. J. Evans of Eddy street was tendered a birthday surprise Friday evening at her home, the occasion being her 66th birthday anniversary. Mrs. Evans received a number of very beautiful presents in honor of the occasion.

A plate lunch was served to the 36 guests present and a birthday cake, with the figures of 66 worked in candles, was presented and lighted. Those present included Mrs. Adeline Hopkins of Terre Haute, Ind., a sister-in-law of Mrs. Evans; Mrs. Frank Reno and children, Frances and Muriel; Mr. and Mrs. John Jones and children, Harry, Lois, Christina, Doris and John Jr.; Mrs. Elsie Evans, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Shaffer and children, Elmore, Dorothy and Elsie; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Reno and daughter Marie; Mr. and Mrs. Quincy Sanders and son Harry; Mr. and Mrs. James McDevitt and son James Jr.; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stickle and son Ralph; Mr. and Mrs. Clark Peterson and Clarence Lausbaugh of the seventh ward, and Mrs. Lucy Wigley and daughter Dora, of Painesville, O.

Anniversary Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Miles Barry of the Butler road entertained a number of guests at a 6 o'clock dinner in celebration of their first wedding anniversary Thursday evening. The Barry home was attractively decorated with fall garden flowers. A delicious dinner was enjoyed, after which the evening was spent informally.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Brooks, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Brooks and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Derr and family, Miss Margaret Stoner, Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Johnson and family of Ellwood City were present from out of town.

Birthday Celebrated

Honoring the birthday anniversary of her mother, Mrs. R. H. Ramsey of Boyles avenue charmingly entertained a few of her friends at an evening gathering last evening as a means of celebration. Three tables of cards occupied the leisure hours, and later the hostess, assisted by her sister, Mrs. Lee Gunter of Aspinwall served an appetizing lunch.

The honor guest received a beautiful gift in memory of the day.

Today

That Willy Amtorg.
Bones Of Long Ago.
Siam's Wise King.
New York's Wet-Dry Puzzle.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1930, King Features
Synd., Inc.)

It was said that Russia was selling wheat. Russia WAS selling, and wheat prices dropped.
Then, for mysterious reasons, known only to the Bolshevik mind and the board of trade intellect, Russia began buying, and up went the price of wheat, driving poor bears to despair.
Who in the world taught Bolsheviks to "outsmart" our ingenious long and short traders?

That Russia should "outsmart" the farm board, made up of men unfamiliar with speculation, is not surprising.

But how does "Amtorg" manipulate or wisest ones?
Our high finance said Russia couldn't possibly succeed in business. Could high finance have been mistaken?

In Greenwich Village, 100 years ago, respectable citizens were buried in a quiet graveyard. As they bought their graves, each probably thought, "Here I shall rest in peace until Gabriel comes to get me."

But New York City needs the land and steam shovels are now digging up the graveyard. Bones are mixed, the skull of one young lady, perhaps near the feet of some old man, a gruesome travesty of the Ruth-Boaz incident. Police "guard the bones" and they will be buried to finish the "dust to dust" process elsewhere.

Fortunately, those dead of 100 years ago are really not injured.

And, anyhow, in the course of time, in a few million years at most, this earth itself will go back to cosmic dust.

The finest grave is only temporary. We must look elsewhere for comfort.

The king of Siam, who suffers from a dangerous infection of the eye, would have known just what to do, before civilized science came.

He would have gone to the temple. Priests of the strange Siamese religion would have gone through many motions, calling upon powers invisible, of light and darkness.

Then the king would have died of his infection, probably.

Things have changed. This modern king of Siam says to his priests: "Much obliged, but this is real illness, and I can't afford to depend on imaginary cures."

New York's governorship fight will be an interesting wet-dry performance.

The New York Democracy, like the ocean on which the walrus and the carpenter gazed, is "as wet as wet can be."

It demands repeal of the 18th amendment.

And the Republican party, until now headed by the Gibraltar of prohibition, will also nominate a wet. Mr. Tuttle, who says nothing short of repeal will suit him.

Since prohibitionists will nominate a dry candidate, determined that citizens shall have an opportunity to vote "for God, country and the constitution."

THE FRIENDLY SOUL

You may have been chagrined many times because strangers have not been willing to take you at "face value."

Your efforts to be friendly have been rebuffed.

The greater your effort the greater the stand taken against you.

Perhaps you pride yourself on being straight and honorable.

The thought that another distrusts you angers you and you show it.

You think that a person ought to see at a glance that your intentions are on the square.

Take a good look at yourself in a mirror and then say whether there is much about your face that should inspire confidence on the part of a stranger.

Many faces as honest looking as yours have been found in the police courts.

This may be a shock to your pride but it is true.

What is there about you that should cause a stranger to feel that you are honest and trustworthy, especially if that person be one who has studied the faces of many who are crooked or at least not quite straight?

Be glad to prove your worth and respect the person who does not put too much confidence in outside appearance.

If you are really honest you won't be offended though your pride suffers.

Expect to provide evidence of your good standing before you are accepted by those who are careful.

Attack On Columbus' Record Fails to Change His Standing

Americans Prefer Their "1492" And Show Little Excitement Over Nationality Of Discoverer Or Charge That He Had Come To This Continent As Corsair

More humorous than otherwise are the comments on charges from an investigator in South America, who, by reason of personal research, believes that Columbus had visited this continent before 1492 as a corsair and that he was a Catalonian outlaw of the sea. It is conceded by part of the public that he may have known of earlier voyages in this direction, but most comments agree that the public prefers its "1492" without "debunking."

"In any case, he started something," contends the CHICAGO DAILY TRIBUNE, "and as America's first booster, he is deserving of attention. He gave the Atlantic ocean a western edge and Europe a subject for conversation that has lasted four hundred years. As the first visiting European to our shores he returned with many stories of the strange folk who lived here. Whether he lectured in America on bad manners, lack of taste, slang, dollar chasing, nasal tones, and other errors, after the usual custom of European lecturers, is not clear. He probably first observed these qualities, and later lecturers have found it unnecessary to observe anything else since. As a Spaniard Columbus will have sympathies with old customs still extant along our shores. The tango and the revolution still flourish south of the Rio Grande. Tequila and tortillas still are consumed."

"We have always stood for educational progress and put reliance in scientific research," confesses the ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH. "Hard as it will be, we can, in time, we suppose, learn to regard the discoverer of America as a Catalonian corsair instead of the son of a Genoese wool weaver. The adventurous spirit whom we had always thought of as befriended by Spanish royalty could finally, we guess, become a rebel against King Juan II of Aragon. Evidently we could make up our minds to supplant the voyage of the Nina, Pinta and Santa Maria by way of the Canary Islands and Sargasso Sea with a trip of Danish seamen via Iceland, Greenland and Labrador. But as for accepting a date other than 1492—never! That year is one of the eternal verities. It belongs with the stars. A beacon light to children groping in the dim corridors of history, its fixity steadies men and women shaken by the constant flux of a changing world. We serve notice here and now—1492 to the end of time."

The questions involved are reviewed by the NEW ORLEANS TRIBUNE with the statement as to the recent announcement of research "Columbus, says the director of the Peruvian National Library, came to America in 1492, but he ought not to have made a fuss about it. He had come here before, by way of Greenland, but went home to Europe and said nothing about it. When he appeared before Ferdinand and Isabella, therefore, he was betting on a sure thing, given decent sailing weather. And finally, he wasn't the son of a Genoese weaver, but a Catalonian corsair who had got into a bad habit of robbing against King Juan II of Aragon. Our thanks to the Peruvian savant. Columbus has at last been 'modernized.' As for William Tell and all like heroes, when did you last see Santa Claus? Columbus is refashioned to fit modern skepticism. He was just a four-flushing Spanish racketeer who put over a fast one on a king and queen, and helped himself to plenty of profit and an admiral's badge by pulling over again a hot lie already had made once. Hot, huh? Now all we need now is, who was the lady in the case?"

It is highly probable," concludes the BUFFALO EVENING NEWS, "that Columbus did know of the Norse voyages, though the assertion that he actually had made a trip to the North American coast with the Norse is opposed by the general evidence that they had ceased making voyages to Greenland and Vinland long before the time of Columbus. Their family records all relate to a time when navigation was chiefly by car power. While Columbus belonged to the age of sail power. In any case, information which Columbus may have had about the Norse explorations would have given him no assurance of the existence of a trans-Atlantic coast opposite Spain. His credit as a man who reasoned out a geographical problem from a basic realization of the roundness of the earth would be enhanced rather than diminished by evidence that he used knowledge of the Norse trips, which had been available to all inquiring scientists and sailors for several centuries."

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

THEM WAS THE DAYS.

It wasn't so many years ago when Automoblists wore linen dusters. No one had "pendants."

The "girl" in the kitchen did not expect more than $3.00 a week. People paid 6 cents a quart for milk.

The milk was delivered in tin cans. There were livery stables everywhere.

Julius Verne wrote a weird romance about a submarine. Nobody had ever seen a horseless carriage.

Girls sometimes wore cotton stockings and high laced boots (you were not supposed to know it).

Men often wore Congress shoes. Spectacles and eye-glasses were not common.

People generally kept their tonsils. It seemed necessary to control hats. Nobody in California thought of conversing with somebody in English.

Children were not taught to swim the fly. Everybody in the audience was scared when the express train came running head-on in the motion picture.

The best orchestra seats at the theaters cost $1.50 apiece. And there are people alive today who, using the best then known method of transportation in that part of the United States where they were living at the time, have ridden in ox-carts, stage coaches, canal boats, railroad trains, automobiles and aeroplanes.

AVOID THE INDIVIDUAL—

Who spends his time telling you that he trusts nobody. Whose religion consists of the things he does not believe. Who makes you a receiving set for his gossip and scandal. Who is jealous of your other friends.

Who constantly insists upon being your conscience. Who never admits his own responsibility for any mistake. Whose emotions work independently of his reason.

The weather man's efforts to make it hot for England really weren't necessary with Gandhi on the job.

Helping Out — —

Hospitals are not money making institutions. Like churches, colleges and similar institutions they operate at a loss, and this loss must be compensated by gifts, endowments, appropriations and the like.

The Jameson Memorial Hospital is like all other hospitals. The operating deficit must be made up if the institution is to function as it should be.

One way of helping out is to attend the Sue Harvard recital in the Cathedral, Tuesday evening, September 30th.

The net proceeds go to the hospital.

"What The Critics Say"

Springfield, Mass. — "A lovely lyric voice of dramatic timbre, which she uses with ease and spontaneity and always with keen musical intelligence."—Republican.
Brooklyn, N. Y. —

"Sue Harvard's program last night" was a most exciting one. Her French songs were exquisitely interpreted, her German and English songs were put over with fine understanding. Hummel's "Halleluia" left a feeling of something big and glorious with the audience after the singer had finished."—Lagie.

Roanoke, Va. — "Beautiful of face, figure and voice—she is a consummate artist."

And Mr. Calder, former Republican senator from New York state, tells President Hoover that the Republican party "can never hope for success in New York state until it fights to repeal the 18th amendment and starts all over again."

Other lands, other views.

In Miami, David Weinberg, tailor, interested in Communist ideas, was kidnapped, tarred, feathered, beaten, wrapped in a white hooded cloak, thrown out of an automobile.

In Russia, 48 men, including high government officials, accused of NOT sympathizing with Communistic ideas, are taken out and shot dead.

They were accused of stirring up public discontent by interfering with food distribution.

In one spot you are tarred and feathered for talking Communism.

In another spot you are shot because you are not interested in Communism.

Angels that study us must wonder.

The Paris newspapers Le Temps and Le Journal Des Debats, most powerful in France, demand that the French government put SAFETY AHEAD OF EVERYTHING ELSE.

Talk about a United States of Europe, and talk of economy are secondary.

The important thing is for France to have an army, navy and especially an air fleet, able to defy the world.

The intelligent Temps says: "We must guard against unpleasant surprises, by relying on our own power, to insure the country's safety."

Bryer Manager Of Penn Theatre

New Kensington Man Takes Over Management Of Local Theatre

LONG ASSOCIATED IN THEATRE WORK

Announcement was made today that effective immediately, Milton H. Bryer would take over the management of the Penn Theatre. Mr. Bryer, a comparatively young man in years, but a veteran of the entertainment world, comes to New Castle from New Kensington where he has been the manager of the Warner Theatres.

In the past fifteen years Mr. Bryer's experience has been most varied. Production, distribution, publicity and management all of them have added to his store of entertainment knowledge and his acceptance of the director of the Penn Theatre means that New Castle can expect the best in motion pictures, in the future.

In Many Cities
His experience has been obtained in many cities. He first was associated with Pathe in the production of pictures in the New York studio. The distribution of films interested him and he was engaged in this branch of the business for a time. Later he went into the exhibitor's end of the game and for ten years had a chain of four theatres in Akron, O.

Disposing of his picture houses to Warner Brothers, he took over the management of their Erie, Pa. houses and still later went to New Kensington, Pa. where he has been located. In a short time he expects to move his family and household effects here and become a citizen of New Castle.

Speaking of his coming to New Castle Mr. Bryer said, "coming to New Castle means that I can now expect to be settled in a city long enough to enjoy life in an orderly fashion. For some time I have been moving from place to place for Warner Brothers and while I appreciated their confidence in me, yet the arrangement was not one that a family man likes. Here I can educate my family, take part in the civic life of New Castle and take my full share of community responsibility."

Promises Good Pictures
"I like New Castle and I believe that New Castle is entitled to the very best in talking pictures. In the future I expect to book only those pictures which are proven to be good, and in this I hope to have the cooperation of the patrons of the Penn Theatre in making known their wants, and their reactions."

"There will be no radical changes in the policy of the Penn Theatre, only a strengthening of its picture program, an improvement where improvement is possible and a constant endeavor to see that the people are given the best available for their money. Already there has been booked such stellar pictures as 'Animal Crackers,' featuring the Marx Brothers, 'Anybody's War' with Moran and Mack, the masterpiece that has amazed the critics, 'Abraham Lincoln' starring Walter Huston and Una Merkel, and of course 'Man-Slaughter' which opens next week. These are but a few of a host of splendid productions which the Penn patrons can expect to see in the near future, and the policy will be to get the good ones, when they are new, and at the same time they are playing the theatres of the larger cities."

CAREER

He wanted money and wanted praise.
And wanted fame ere he came to die.
He followed them ever along the ways,
Never the purpose escaped his eye.
This he did for the sake of gold,
That he did for the world's acclaim;
Now with furious strokes and bold
He ventured all for the wraith of fame.

But never were money nor praise for-got,
Never was glory out of his mind,
Time and labor he wasted not
In being friendly or being kind.

Rich was he at the end of it all,
Praised he'd been for his deeds of skill,
Fame had entered him in her hall,
But life seemed empty and worth-less still.

Who works for himself may wealth attain,
Praise and fame may his deeds attend,
But who sometimes serves without thought of gain
Will happier be at the journey's end.

BRIDE'S TAKE NOTICE

If a bride can't beat her mother-in-law at cooking she is a fizzle. So opines an observer and a wise one. For a bride to be successful she must be a 50 per cent better cook, than her mother or her mother-in-law. Cooking in the old days was more a matter of instinct, habit, tradition. A pinch of this and a pinch of that made a tasty dish or at least a dish that father liked. Today, cooking has gone the way of other old-fashioned accomplishments. It has become scientific. Like mathematics, it is an exact science. Perform each operation just right and there can be no failure in the product. And now that cooking is a science the modern family demands more. The bride has to be good.

Supplication is the last factor he took up and he urged the teacher to pray for himself, for his pupil and if he goes to God, the giver of the Book in his hours of study he is sure to get the most out of the lesson and will be able to give it in the right way if he asks God for guidance in the matter.

Flags Presented
Miss Anna Perry, who is superintendent of administration of the Association addressed a few well chosen words to the assembly, urging more memory work of the Bible for the pupils and presenting her points with illustrations that clearly showed the advantage of Bible memorizing.

At this point the percentage and number of persons attending from various Sabbath schools was announced and it was found the Women's Bible class from the Croton Avenue church won both awards, one for the percentage of attendance and one for the most members in attendance, they having had 40 out of 50 enrolled in attendance, this giving them a percentage of 80. The Harvey E. Martin class of First Baptist church was second with 36 out of 46 enrolled in attendance.

Both flags were presented to the Croton Methodist class, but inasmuch as the Martin class had a percentage of 78 and were so near in numbers, the Women's Class of Croton church presented the second flag to this class.

Officers Elected
The nominating committee, Homer C. Drake, Rev. D. C. Schenck and Mrs. L. D. Garratt then submitted the names of those chosen to fill the various offices and the election resulted as follows:

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—Storm wave of moderate force, expected to cross continent during week centering on 30, will be a warm storm centering, causing a movement to higher average temperatures and decreasing precipitation during passage of storm wave; this storm wave will cause a period of moderate weather during last days of Sept. and first days of Oct., an ideal period for completing winter grain and general fall work. Sept. 17 to Oct. 31, precipitation is expected to be greater than during the past several months and to be more evenly distributed, but no excessive precipitation will be expected to occur over any large area during this period. Fall pastures and feeds that have come thru the cold wave of Sept. 26, will do well generally over the continent during ten days following that cold period.

Cropweather Features, Expected During October
During last week of September and month of October, a slight increase in precipitation will be expected in eastern Great Central valleys from Great Lakes region to Gulf; principal precipitation of this period will be expected near Sept. 23, Oct. 7, 20 and 29. Storm force during this month will be greater than usual and the remaining dry spots of drought area will receive considerable moisture, but this moisture will not be sufficient to furnish ample sub-soil moisture to all sections. Principal precipitation of month will occur in extreme eastern Great Central valleys; a gradual de-

Friday Night

MARKS CONFERENCE OF VALLEY Y. P. C. U.

The evening session opened at 7:30 with Dr. G. S. Bennett of the First Christian church, having charge of the devotionals and the choir of the First Baptist church, under the direction of John W. Owens, with Miss Newbury at the organ sang an anthem and led the congregational singing.

The new officers were installed by the president of the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association, Robert M. Strickler, after which the offering was lifted.

Dr. W. E. McClure, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, who has but recently returned from a tour of the Holy Lands then gave an address to the audience, taking as his subject "The Agreement of the Land and the Book."

Dr. McClure said as one travels through these lands that are so vividly described in the Bible, one would almost think he had been transported back through the ages to the time when the Book was written, so close does the land of that country today adhere to the description given in the Bible.

The people living in the Holy Lands today do not differ to any great extent from those of Bible times and if it were not for the tourists in their modern garb, one could imagine that time had stood still. In traveling from country to country the similarity of the "Land to the Book" still is so forcible. In Arabia they still live in tents, just like in the time of Abraham and one sees the caravans traveling slowly along and near Dothan, where Joseph was sold by his brothers to the party of Ishmaelites, the camels can still be seen traveling along in the same direction.

Traveling further into the land of Beersheba one is again brought close to the Bible stories and the time of Isaac, when one sees the vast wheat fields and the wells that have been dug so many years, these are just the same as when the seeds were scattered by the hands of the early Bible characters and the water drawn from the wells in the same manner.

So, on through all the districts we are so fond of studying about in our Bibles, the climatic conditions, the customs of life, the dress of the natives, the seeds planted and the harvest reaped, all show that the Book and the Land have seemingly an agreement that has come down through the thousands of years and will no doubt go down through time endlessly.

Dr. McClure's message was put so vividly before his audience that one just felt themselves traveling with him through the countries he described.

The evening session was brought to a close with the benediction and the officers and teachers and all who had attended expressed the idea that they had received a lot of benefit from this convention.

THE TOWN DOCTOR

"DOCTOR OF TOWNS" SAYS

A FEW POINTED PARAGRAPHS WORTH THINKING ABOUT
A community is just as big as the people in it. It isn't the number of people that makes a small town small.

Never before has the importance of "Selling a Community" been so great as it is today. There is a reason for everything and "the reason why" for every community should be found out and "sold," first to the people that make up the community, and second to those who are its potential customers. Only in that way can any community keep pace with changing America.

The people of a community can have anything they want if they want it enough. That is the truth, but the trouble is that too few people want what they want to the extent of getting together and sticking together until the end desired is attained. As long as people place petty jealousies and personal littleness before common sense and the real things of life they have no right to complain if their business and their town is not what they think it ought to be.

"Contemptuous Familiarity" works two ways. It blinds the beholder to the treasure itself, and hides from view that which hides the treasure. Many a town is standing still merely because it's people are contemptuously familiar with both its advantages and disadvantages.

Now is the time to get going to go get it. There never was a better time to lay a firm foundation for individual and collective business than right now. When things are at their worst they are bound to get better. When people think things will get better they will get better if they follow through by acting as they think.

This is a good time of year for merchants to re-read the Law of Good Business which says "Business goes where it is invited, and stays and comes back to the place where it is well treated and served best." You can't expect people to do business with you if you do not ask them to—that is just another way of saying "You can't Sell 'em if You Don't Tell 'em."

The housewife who has her own best interests at heart will do well to adhere to a plan of buying her needs from the stores that give her a "reason why" she should buy from them. Price is one thing, but quality and price is another.

Ask the merchant to give you a real reason why you should buy from him in preference to his competitor. If he cannot tell you, if he DOES NOT tell you, there can hardly be a reason; and without a reason, how can it be a good place for you to trade? Watch your newspapers. Read the advertisements and see if the merchants give you a real "reason why" you should trade with them—a reason that is to your advantage. If you cannot find an advertisement of the stores where you have been in the habit of buying it may be because those merchants have no reason; or it, having a reason, they are not interested enough in you to lay that reason before you.

Now is the time for all wise buyers to buy it—a few months from now there will be many who will say, "I wish I had bought it when prices were down."

Rescue Mission Has Clothes Truck

Mayor Advises Citizens To Give Clothing To Rescue Mission

Mayor William H. Gillespie stated today that it had been brought to his attention that out-of-town organizations were collecting clothing and shoes which were being hauled to another city.

"I would suggest that persons here who have any clothing, shoes or furniture which can be used, should call the Rescue mission, which is located here. The mission has a truck and will call for the material," said the mayor.

He believes that the clothing can be kept and used here by the unfortunate who may need it.

Mrs. E. Swearingen Will Address Meeting

Mrs. E. Swearingen of Pittsburgh who is well known among the Spiritualists of this city will address the meeting of the church of Spiritual services in the City Building Sunday afternoon and evening.

Still, Russians who think they are free because Stalin says they are shouldn't question the worth of paper money that has the same endorsement.

First Christians Planning Diamond Jubilee In November

Rev. G. S. Bennett, pastor of the First Christian church, announces that it is expected the completion of the repairing and redecoration of the church will all be completed by the date set for the Jubilee Sunday, November 2.

President Cloyd Goodnight of Bethany College has been secured as one of the speakers at this time and Rev. P. H. Welshimer, pastor of the Canton, Ohio Christian church will also address the congregation.

The church of which Rev. Welshimer is pastor has the reputation of having the largest church of the Christian Denomination in the world and the largest Sunday school in the world in any denomination, having membership of between 5,000 and 6,000 with an average attendance of 3,000 each Sabbath.

Every member of the First Christian church is putting forth an effort to make this celebration one that will long be remembered in the annals of the church.

Third U. P. Church Will Observe Rally Day Sunday Morning

Sunday, September 28, Rally Day will be observed at the Third United Presbyterian Bible school. Extensive plans have been made to make this a record breaking day—an attendance goal of 1,000 having been set. Attendance last Sunday was 817 and hopes of breaking the 1,000 mark are entertained.

A special feature of the program will be the graduation of the Beginners to the Primary Department—each child in Cap and Gown—with presentation of diplomas. This department is under the capable superintendency of Mrs. J. E. Gorman who with a corps of able assistants has been working untiringly for some time.

Mr. W. H. Schoenfeld is the Bible School Cabinet member in charge of the day—with Mrs. A. E. Theophilus as chairman of the program committee.

Norma C. Brown Will Speak At Central Christian

Miss Norma C. Brown of Bloomington, Illinois, who is to give an address in the interest of Law Enforcement on Sunday, September 28, at 10:45 a. m. in the Central Christian church is a speaker of rare ability and wide experience. She is an ordained minister in the Christian church, having filled her father's pulpit at the age of fifteen. At the age of twenty-one she served as Chaplain of the Illinois State Legislature, the first of her sex to fill such a post.

She is now Vice President of the Flying Squadron Foundation and Associate Editor of the National Enquirer. The meeting is free and open to the public.

Col. Moudy has been on the lecture platform for a number of years, and his educational lectures have met with continuous praise from the press, public and pupils. He has delivered more than 2,000 addresses before high schools, colleges, churches and civic organizations. Criticisms from the press are, "that no true American can afford to miss this educational lecture."

Court

SEVERAL GIVEN WORKHOUSE TERMS

Married Woman, Found In Lutz Home Near Moravia Stop Gets Morganza

As an aftermath of criminal court which has been in session for the past two weeks, Judges Hildebrand and Chambers passed sentences on a number of prisoners this morning. The remainder of those convicted will be sentenced next week.

In the case of Alex Antonitti, Albert Cas and William Briggs, who were convicted of entering a feed store at Wurttemberg and stealing eight sacks of flour Antonitti was given from 2 to 6 years in the Western Penitentiary. Cas and Briggs were each given from 6 months to 2 years in the county jail.

Antonitti, who is a married man, admitted that he had done time for a former robbery. Cas married with two children, had also been in some trouble before. Briggs had a clear record except for an intoxication charge. The men said that two other men, who have not been apprehended, were concerned with them in the robbery.

Mildred Blue, aggravated assault and battery in connection with cutting Vernon Farris with a knife, $25 fine and costs and one year in workhouse.

George Hackley, felonious assault and battery, on Mary McMichael $25 fine and costs and one year to workhouse.

Charles Kennedy, transporting liquor $300 fine and cash and one year to workhouse. Kennedy admitted he had been in trouble. While celebrating his wedding with a quart of whiskey he was arrested and given 45 days in jail.

Bessie Johnston, possessing liquor, paroled upon the payment of $100 and costs.

Raymond Bly, transporting liquor, $100 and costs and 60 days to the county jail.

William B. Scott possessing liquor, $300 fine and costs and eighteen months to workhouse. Scott had been in trouble before.

William Mitchell, possessing liquor, $100 fine and costs and workhouse for four months.

Bob Kirkwood, operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated $200 fine and costs and two months to the county jail. Kirkwood entered a plea and did not try to offer excuses. He was driving on Long Avenue when he ran into another auto, but did not do serious damage.

Harry A. Lutz of near Moravia Stop who entered a plea to possessing liquor and was convicted of keeping a bowdy house was sentenced to pay a fine of $200 and costs in the first case. In the bowdy house case he was sentenced two years to the workhouse.

Florence Stewart, young married woman who was an inmate of the Harry A. Lutz house at Moravia Stop was sent to Morganza reform school.

John Stewart, husband of Florence Stewart, named above, on a charge of pandering was given from 3 to 6 years in the Western Penitentiary. He was told that a man sinks about as low down as he can get when he lives off a woman's shame.

George Pakish, charged with assaulting Freda Grief, aged 9 years, was sentenced to from 3 to 6 years in the Western Penitentiary.

Walter Dean Clark, for operating a motor vehicle without the consent of the owner was sent to Morganza reform school. Clark was paroled on a similar charge at a former term of court, but persisted in taking other people's automobiles.

Alex Hartzell fined $100 and costs on a perjury charge in 1928, which he had failed to pay was sentenced to the county jail for 60 days.

Everett Rick who was paroled on a charge of operating a motor vehicle and who violated his parole was brought in after serving about a month in jail, and given another chance.

Giant Locomotives Pass Thru District

Pennsy Freight, St. Louis Bound, Tows Huge Engines Over Division

Two mammoth passenger engines, bound for St. Louis to become a part of the St. Louis and Western equipment, passed through New Castle over the E. and A. division track, a few minutes before noon. The giant locomotives made up a part of a regular freight train haul.

At division headquarters, it was said that six more engines are due to come. Two passed over the division a few days ago. They are being shipped from a locomotive works at Philadelphia.

Low bridge clearance along the Niles line makes it necessary to tow the engines from Erie to Homewood junction, and hence west over the Ft. Wayne and Chicago.

WILL PERFORM IN CONSISTORY SHOW

HOWARD WYLIE

WILLIAM McCOMBS

It takes a lot of different ingredients to make an omelet, a cocktail or a plate of hash. And to this list add a musical comedy. It takes singers and dancers, good looking girls and good looking costumes, a band and directors, comics and dramatic actors. Mix them together, stir well and serve hot.

"Odds," the rollicking musical comedy which will be presented in the Cathedral auditorium on Wednesday and Thursday evening of next week under the sponsorship of the service division has all of the ingredients, the stirring is being done every night and when the curtain goes up Wednesday night the portions handed out to the customers will be just what the doctor ordered.

Some of the Singers.
Two of the singing parts in the cast will be handled by Howard Wylie and William McCombs, both of them good singers and both of them in love. Wylie takes the part of Montcalm Bieglow (now there's a name) who is by way of being the son of Colonel Bieglow and according to the script Montcalm is a dignified young gentleman.

William McCombs takes the part of Robert Stallings, a successful New York business man, who breaks right down and confesses a deep undying love for Peggy Hartley. After seeing Peggy in action in the play you'll understand why.

Tickets for "Odds" are going just a little faster than you'd expect tickets for anything to go. Seat reservations are heavy, the cast is ready to shoot, and there seems to be no reason under the sun why "Odds" shouldn't be what has been sometimes referred to in theatrical circles as a wow.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations
Of Interesting Things Around New Castle.

Some there are who insist that history and biography are the only kind of books that are worth the time of reading. Not that this department ever held to that tenet, but occasionally comes in that lends conviction to the belief.

One of them kept us out of the hay last night until the morning was getting under way. The Life of Ira D. Sankey, that native son of Lawrence County whose golden voice was heard over the world, a simply written book, but one that holds the interest until it is finished.

After reading the history and works of Ira D. Sankey I am more than ever convinced that he merits the title of "great." He was not an ordinary man, not an ordinary singing evangelist, not just another revival musician, but a great character, an outstanding figure not alone of his own time, but for all time.

Sankey's introduction to Dwight L. Moody was the result of one of those happy accidents. At that time he was working with his father who was an internal revenue collector for the local Y. M. C. A. and had gone to Indianapolis as a delegate.

Dwight L. Moody was scheduled to make the address of the day but the man who was to direct the singing had not arrived. One of the leaders of the convention asked Sankey to get up and sing and to lead the crowd while he was doing it, Moody walked in.

At the close of the meeting Sankey was introduced to Moody and as he met him, the evangelist said, "are you married, what do you do?" Sankey replied that he was working in New Castle, Pa., to which Moody replied "you'll have to give all that up." Thus started the combination of Moody and Sankey, probably the greatest combination of preacher and singer that the world has known.

Sankey's voice and his hymns were heard wherever the human voice was heard. In Britain, on the Continent, in the shadow of the Pyramids, in many tongues and in many countries, they were sung by him and by others.

It has always been my own impression that the name of Ira D. Sankey was one that should be preserved in New Castle in some sort of imperishable monument. True the Y. M. C. A. is a monument to his memory, but he gave the old building to the association. Granite shafts have been erected to men who deserved them far less.

As time goes on the name of Ira D. Sankey will be only a name to the younger generations unless some kind of a constant reminder is present. This city can never afford to forget the memory of a man whose voice carried to the farthest corners of the earth, whose work as a Christian messenger brought new life and new hope to the fallen, and whose worth to a Christian civilization can never be properly evaluated.

Hurling tomatoes is one form of sport that carries no cups with it, but in one case it is going to carry a vacation in the jailhouse if it is continued, so one of the drivers of the Harmony busses informs me.

A gang of sharpshooters out at East New Castle have been tossing potential tomato soup at the Harmony bus and typical of the actions of such people have been doing it in gang formation. Not even a bus driver is expected to be able to lick a whole army.

The weather is too fine to be spending any time back of the bars, but after checking up on the crowd and getting an interesting list of names, the driver informs me that a recurrence of the sport is going to bring prosecution.

And anyway tomatoes are such a messy thing to throw. They squash rather juicy if you get what I mean, and constituents waste.

Express Company Men Here Get
Supply To Wear On Duty
Next Week

To further impress safety on the minds of all with whom they come in contact, employees of the local branch of the Railway Express agency will wear especially designed "safety first" armbands continuously while on duty next week. They will serve as reminders of the National Safety congress, which convenes in Pittsburgh on Monday and continues in session until Friday.

The armbands to be worn here came from the office of J. W. Johnson, city manager at Pittsburgh. Workers all over the country will wear them.

Airport Activities
Are Now Increasing

"Tin City Rocket" Whirlwind
Motor Is Being Overhauled;
Planes Inspected

Activities at Bradford airport are increasing with the approach of cold weather.

The port's monocoque plane and the Travelair biplane are being overhauled by mechanics. The huge Whirlwind motor of the former "Tin City Rocket" is being overhauled. The "Rocket" was destroyed by fire at
Ebensburg airport several weeks ago.
Plans of the airport management for the plane's motor, which is in excellent shape, have not been learned.

The planes are being inspected and other activities are carried on by Ernie
Meuser, pilot; Charles Gabriel, Dan
Cosmo and A. Kirk, mechanics.

The grounds are being kept in excellent condition. The hangar is prepared for winter. It was learned that a heater will be installed shortly.

Teachers To Invade Erie For Zone Meet Of Education Group

Expect 2,500 Public School Instructors October 11 And 12; Address Planned

(International News Service) ERIE, Pa., Sept. 27.—Six counties in northwestern Pennsylvania will send some 2,500 public school teachers here October 11 and 12 for the northwestern zone meeting of the Pennsylvania State Educational association, Superintendent Ralph S. Dewey of Corry predicts.

The convention this year, Dewey said, will be increased to 20 sections each concerned with a definite educational work and will be arranged so that all teachers may attend assemblies where national speakers deliver addresses.

Counties which will be represented at the meeting are Crawford, Erie, Forest, Mercer, Venango and Warren. All delegates to the convention are expected to be here when Dr. R. L. Lyman of the school of education of the University of Chicago delivers the opening address. Lee Gilmore, president of the Pennsylvania State Educational association, is also expected to be present to greet the teachers.

The zone meeting will be wound up after all sectional meetings are finished by election and installation of officers.

Day Of Atonement At Temple Israel

Will Be Observed With Special Services On Wednesday, October 1

The Day of Atonement will be observed at Temple Israel with solemn services on Wednesday evening, October 1, at 7:00 p. m. and Thursday during the entire day, beginning at 10:00 o'clock in the morning. The memorial services are scheduled for 3:30 p. m. The topic of the sermon at the evening services will be: "The Spectacle From Without." At the morning services Rabbi Menkes will preach on: "The Sermon From Within."

Yom Kippur—The Day Of Atonement. The twilight of Wednesday, October 1, 1930, being the tenth of the Hebrew month Tishri, will mark the beginning of the most sacred day in the Jewish calendar—"Yom Kippur," the Day of Atonement. In Jewish life this Holy day is also known as the "Sabbath of Sabbaths" and the "Great White Fast." Unlike the observance of any other Jewish holiday, the Day of Atonement is marked by the unique feature of fasting which begins with the chanting of the Kol Nidre melody and ends with sunset of the following day.

Like all other Jewish holidays, however, Yom Kippur has undergone a change both in its meaning and manner of observance. In the days of the Temple when the Jews dwelt in Palestine as tillers of the soil, the Day of Atonement was chiefly characterized by sacrificial rites, as specified in Leviticus XVI. Both priests and people abstained from food and drink, uttered confessions of their sins, and invoked the God of Mercy for forgiveness. The most stirring moment of the day came when, all alone, the High Priest entered the Holy of Holies and there uttered a short prayer.

But later, when the Jews were exiled from Palestine and the Temple ceased to be the central institution in Israel, the Day of Atonement assumed a new aspect. Sacrifices were no more; in their stead prayer and meditation were substituted. The Rabbinic of old endowed Yom Kippur with fast on Yom Kippur and still observe it with great solemnity and awe-inspiring prayers. But today the keynote of all ceremonies is to raise the character of man to a higher state of humanity. The prayers strive to convey the thought that the Day of Atonement is a day of self-examination self-criticism—a day upon which man is to scrutinize his activities of the past year, judge them, weigh them, and henceforth resolve to turn from that which his best conscience considers evil and to follow that which his higher self regards as good. For this reason day of Atonement plays an important role in Jewish and social life at large as a force which makes for human betterment.

Justifiable Homicide—When you go over to the sorority house and find your room-mate's finger prints on your girl's neck.

This is the first time I have written to your paper giving my views on the subject but I know that all right thinking people will agree that the city could use the money that is spent on hauling cans for something better. If you will print this in your paper I will thank you very much.

I am yours for a better city to live in.

Peter's Adventures

MRS. FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

PETER KEEPS HIS WORD

"If you soldier ants had a little more brains and a little less brawn it might be as well for you and for the rest of us!" remarked a voice, and Busy stood in the doorway.

"If you had put on your thinking cap, Sentry, you would have known that the boy must be all right or he would never have reached here in safety. As a matter of fact, he is my guest, I'm proud to say. Of course, he knows the countersign; he has been going about with me all morning. Another thing I will tell you, to make you ashamed of yourself, our guest has been playing 'mover' and has burdened himself with our load. Look at the eggs under his arms, and the eggs in his hands. He has carried twice as many as any Ant could, and you have the impudence to halt him at the nursery sill. Stand aside, Sentry, and let my friend pass in."

This was a long speech from Busy. But before Peter could thank him for speaking a good word for a misunderstood guest, Sentry stepped to one side. Sentry did more—he bowed.

"Advance," said Sentry, then stretched out an antennae to bar the doorway. "Wait just moment until I apologize," said Sentry, humbly. "I made a mistake, but I hope you will forgive me. I only acted for the good of my tribe."

"Oh, that's all right," said Peter, and then, "Be a good sport, Sentry, and let me pass. I would like to lay the eggs down before I drop them."

Sentry jumped out of the way as though he had been shot. And at last Peter placed his precious burdens on top of a pile of eggs on the nursery floor. Peter had kept his word.

Fiddler Says Youngsters Of Today Better Dancers Than Those Of Gay Nineties

He fiddled for round and square dances in Ryantown, Slabtown, Mulintown, Sheep Hill—at every popular dance hall of the early '90s. He played his fiddle at gay gatherings in Philadelphia, Ganda Flat and Lake Center, at the popular dance hall on Beaver street, at Bailey's on Pittsburgh street, and at Brinton park (now Cascade park) in the good old summer time.

"They were jolly good days," says Henry Bryson, champion old time fiddler of Lawrence county. "But it is the youth of today that knows how to put on real dances. The dances are better. The orchestras are better. The music is more up to the minute. And there is better order at dance halls today than forty and fifty years ago."

Unless it was a private dance, the thought of every dance hall habitué was—"Be prepared for a fight and keep your hat!" Invariably there would be a row or two. The usual cause of the fights was when the fair partner of some certain youth was asked for too many dances by some other youth.

A dance hall was no place to take a good three dollar "gondola" for it was an accepted fact not expected to get the same left back. Often a stored in relief was left in place of that new gondola.

An orchestra of three pieces was considered quite the orchestra. There would be an old square piano, a fiddle and a cornet—sometimes a piano and two fiddles. Square dances, waltzes and Scotchish dances were the most popular ones. The musicians in Bryson's opinion were the capable of playing many more tunes in those days than now. He had to know all the latest tunes upon demand. Some of the more popular ones were: "Baggage Car Ahead," "Sweetheart Sleep in Dear Old Tennessee," "Break the News to Tootie," "The Arkansas Traveler," "Irish Washwoman," "Silver Threads Among the Gold," "Shameless Brien," etc.

Dances were different than today's Charleston, black bottoms, Bobby Jones steps, and bunny hugs. In those days it was a shuffling of men's long pointed shoes and whirling of women in long skirts, to old fashioned quadrilles.

However, no one today except the old timers can do a square dance decently and it was done in the '90s. The young folks can't get the knack of it.

Today's waltzing slightly resembles the old waltz steps, although that too has changed.

And most of the changes are for the better, says the champ fiddler.

Girl's Abductor Being Hunted By Officers Today

Police Seek Man Who Abducted Small Girl And Took Her To Niagara Falls

(International News Service) LOCK HAVEN, Pa., Sept. 27.—Police today were conducting a search for Frank Rock, alleged abductor of 12 year old Helen Haag who was safe at home in Clearfield after her father had located her here in the home of Herbert McDermott.

Letters sent by the child from this city to her parents resulted in her discovery.

Orrie Haag, her father, received a letter from rock mailed in Bath, N. Y., asking the parents' permission to adopt the child. He immediately went to Bath but could find no trace of the alleged abductor and the child.

When Helen's letter from Lock Haven was delivered at Clearfield the father came here immediately and recovered his daughter, missing since June 5.

The child told police and her parent that Rock had taken her while she was walking to her grandmother's home on the Clearfield to Gramman road. Then, according to her story, the man took her to Niagara Falls, Bath and finally brought her to Lock Haven about three weeks ago.

Rock placed her in McDermott's home and instructed the aged householder to see that she attended school regularly and was properly cared for in other ways.

Tallulah Bankhead Will Desert Stage For Talking Movies

Famous London Actress Will Desert Stage And Go To Hollywood For Pictures

(International News Service) LONDON, Sept. 27.—Tired of being labeled as an actress "who throws off most of her clothes on the stage," Miss Tallulah Bankhead announced today she was deserting the London theatre to return to her native America to fulfill a three-year talking picture contract.

Miss Bankhead, the daughter of an Alabama congressman, caused great surprise with her announcement. She let it be known some months ago that she planned to become a British citizen, preferring life in the country which gave her fame and prominence to that in America.

"An offer from Hollywood," Miss Bankhead told International News Service, "made the 5,000 pounds I had been offered to appear in a British film seem very small in comparison."

"Another reason for my return is that I am tired of being eternally labeled as an actress who throws off most of her clothes on the stage and revels in bedroom scenes."

Clark B. Hamilton Is One Of Four At Vets, Reunion

Strong enough to win the distinction of being one of only four Civil war veterans able to attend a reunion of the 139th infantry, Pennsylvania Volunteers, Clark B. Hamilton, aged 85, of 115 East Lincoln avenue, father of Alderman Walter T. Hamilton, was back in the city today, certain that he would be present at future reunions.

Of 1,100 soldiers who comprised the 139th, 16 are alive today. Of that number but four were well enough to attend the gathering held in Soldiers and Sailors Memorial hall in Pittsburgh Friday. The meeting revived friendships among the four gray-haired veterans present. Several

City's Youth Is Benefited By "Y" Free Swim Class

Report Indicate That 140 Boys Between 10-18 Were Taught To Swim Here

While classes and departmental activities are being planned to start the physical department work at the Y. M. C. A. October 1, it was announced today that 140 boys between the ages of 10 and 18 had learned to swim at the "Y" pool since last September.

One of the greatest moves in physical education ever conducted here in the interest of the city's youth was the free swimming campaign which is held annually. This season the campaign was successful in having 480 boys registered as beginners in free swimming classes.

Of the 480 boys, 140 learned to swim. Sixty-two passed the beginners' test, which consists of swimming 60 feet, the total length of the pool. Of the number that learned to swim eight succeeded in swimming 40 feet, 16 learned to swim 30 feet. Approximately 75 others were nearing 30 feet in their nautical endeavors.

The free swim campaign was conducted by the local Department Director, McNichols, aided by R. W. Meermans.

In the regular members' swimming classes approximately 50 were taught. All passed the beginners' test.

Swimming is still one of the most popular attractions at the "Y". Beginners' classes are still being conducted each Friday by McNichols.

Numerous Accidents Reported To Police

Slight Injuries Are Reported Also Considerable Damage To Machines

Raymond Heckathorn of Slippery Rock R. D. No. 3 reported to the police Friday that he was enroute east on East Long avenue, as S. L. Newton of 1416 Huron avenue, pulling out from the curb and enroute in the same direction, hit the bumper of the Heckathorn car and also the car of Elmer A. Kurtz, R. D. No. 5. All three cars were damaged.

According to the report at the police station, a truck bearing Pennsylvania license 620BJ was enroute down North Mill street at Falls as an automobile bearing Pennsylvania license 2985B came out of Falls street and the machines came together. Both machines were damaged and a lady named Kaczmarek was cut by flying glass.

Daniel Degenera of West Pittsburg was driving the truck of Louis Derosa, 106 South Jefferson street, south on Water street at Comfort station, being in the act of pulling away from the curb, when his machine, which was in reverse backed up over the sidewalk through the shrubbery on the Comfort station lot into the Rohrer building. Considerable damage was done to the shrubbery.

According to reports at the police station, John R. Sargeant of 226 Garfield avenue, was enroute south on East street in front of the city patrol barn as Officers Dukes and Criswell turned into the patrol barn from East street with three prisoners and hit and damaged the Sargeant car.

H. E. Baxter of R. D. No. 9, reported that he was enroute west on Croton avenue between Ray street and Crawford avenue, when his machine caught in the street car tracks. The machine finally skidded from the tracks into a telephone pole breaking off a left rear wheel of the car.

Bible Class Names Officers Friday Evening

Probe Attempt To Destroy Home By Gasoline Flames

Home Of Rinaldo Cappellini, Former District Mine President, Slightly Damaged

(International News Service) WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Sept. 27.—State police and fire marshals joined hands with city authorities in an investigation of an attempt to destroy the home of Rinaldo Cappellini, former president of District No. 1, United Mine Workers of America, here early today.

In the absence from home of Cappellini and his wife someone poured gasoline over parts of the house and set fire to bedchamber in the house.

A neighbor saw flames shooting from the second story and summoned firemen, who extinguished the blaze after it had damaged the house.

Cappellini, who returned home a short time later, could offer no explanation for the fire.

Last summer his home was destroyed by fire and at that time the union leader blamed enemies in Labor circles.

Don't Write Daily Letter To Children

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.
A great many mothers think they must write a letter every day to their son or daughter at college, particularly to the one who has just entered. They keep on writing daily letters, even though replies come back less and less frequently.

I doubt whether any mother can find worthwhile thing to write a child about every day for a year, semester or month. Certainly a normal young man or woman would not take pleasure in writing home a letter every day for a term. Mothers and children who so write have never yet been weaned from each other.

A great many mothers go on writing two or three letters to one in reply. If they do so for a continued period they effect more harm than good. The child receiving them, no matter how enjoyably they are, becomes a pauper in regard to family affections. A better way is for the mother to grow busy suddenly and for protracted periods, and for dad to do so too, particularly if a check is desired by the neglectful college son or daughter.

Too bad that mother must keep up the lines of communication. Dad should write about half the letters whether to the daughter or the son. His children need such contacts with him, and as a rule, he has as much time for writing as the mother has. Some dads have more.

We parents like our children, may be tempted to picture ourselves as prodigious workers. We want our children to express anxiety about our health. We want them to beg us not to work so hard, and to take better care of ourselves. Like the cook who, seeking for compliments when they have been rare, condemns the victuals she has prepared, so we parents may be guilty of bidding through self pity, sympathy and praise from our children. Not receiving so much as we crave for we may grow more crude in our efforts, bluntly telling them how much we have sacrificed for them.

We ought to exercise more sense. If we forever tell our children of the self-denials we make for them we train them to expect us to make still more for them. It may be desirable for dad to write his son or daughter of the sacrifices which have been made by the mother for the family, or for mother to write of dad, so long as such is entirely sincere. But self-praise is as much to be despised in parents as in children. We parents are tempted to write sermons to our children. To do so may give us a sense of self-righteousness. But our pleasures in such matters tend to become our children's pains. Once the college student reads a few sermon letters he knows what to expect. He learns to save time by skipping over in his letter the distasteful parts, going on until he finds some item of interest or some genuine symbol of endearment. In the skipping process there moves on in his mind, "There she goes again!" To the degree to which the college sons or daughters ignore or despise what we write do they ignore or despise us.

When your boy or girl writes home an experience of which you strongly disapprove the natural thing to do is to condemn him with much feeling. What happens then? The college writer censors his letters more carefully next time. He may, however, do and report more daring things just to observe your emotional storm. If you think you must do something bad, swear at them in your letters, curse them; but avoid such profanity as don't, ought, or should. These are sacrilegious words, dangerous for parents to indulge in with their children by mail or face to face. Now if you cannot resist expressing something for their guidance, employ such phrases as, "I wish you would," or, "I wish you would not." Even these better not appear frequently.

Let us celebrate success in them and ourselves, hoping that in their esteem for us they will strive to do those things which they know we cherish.

HOW is a common photograph reproduced on a newspaper page? Newspaper photographs are reproduced by a process known as photoengraving by which the picture is photographed through a screen, is transferred to a zinc plate and etched with an acid. The small dots appearing on any newspaper photograph are the result of this etching process giving the reproduction the high and low color tones of the original print. Following the etching, a matrix is made of the zinc which in turn gives the cast used in the newspaper's page form.

Will you supply me with the names of firms or individuals who are in the market for old books? There are quite a number of firms which purchase old books. We suggest that you consult the book review sections of metropolitan Sunday newspapers for a complete list of this sort.

Why, if the turning of the earth on its axis makes the sun seem to travel from east to west, doesn't this same motion cause certain slow moving clouds to recede to the west? The turning of the earth on its axis does not cause the clouds to move. The clouds are a part of the earth's atmosphere which extends approximately one hundred miles into space and consequently moves with the rotation of the earth.

Where did Charles (Buddy) Rogers go to school and how old is he at present? Charles (Buddy) Rogers was educated in the public schools of Olathe, Kas., and at the University of Kansas. He was born Aug. 13, 1904.

Who is the richest man in America, also in the world?

Henry Ford is said to be the richest man in the world with a fortune estimated at something over two billion dollars.

What is fire? Fire is the rapid oxidation of any object.

Why are there more bald-headed men than there are women? The fact that men wear hats more frequently than women is said to be one of the main causes of a greater degree of baldness among members of their sex. This and the added worry which the male of the species believes he endures are probably the first reasons.

FIRST TRIPLETS ARRIVE

(International News Service)
QUAKERTOWN, Pa., Sept. 27.—First ever born here, a set of triplets is housed at Community hospital here. The triplets, all girls, were born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brader of Rose-dale. Their total weight at birth was 14 pounds, one weighing five pounds and the other two four and a half pounds each.

LAST SHOWING TODAY—RICHARD DIX in "SHOOTING STRAIGHT"

Bo Broadway

by JOSEPH VAN RAALTE

By Central Press
New York, Sept. 27.—Some day the movie magnate may overcome their wild desire to spend money. But that time seems far distant. An evidence of their lavishness may be seen in the matter of announcing a new production.
The announcements for a Broadway play seldom exceed $3,500. More often the amount is nearer $2,000. This sum includes newspaper advertising, lobby displays, photographs, mimeographs, knickknacks and electric signs. It cost Jed Harris, for instance, $6,000 to raise the curtain on "Uncle Vanya."
"Hell's Angels" the latest Broadway movie "knockout" announced itself to The Lane for the trifling sum of $142,000—not counting the salary of Charlie Washburn, publicity director.

THOSE WERE THE DAYS

The partners of a large downtown wire house, while waiting round in the hope that a customer might drop in and place an order, read with some amusement the copy of a New York morning newspaper dated May, 1897.

A feature story in the thirty-three year old paper entitled, "Starvation Days in Wall Street," painted a graphic picture of the dull business then ruling in the financial center. It pointed out that Stock Exchange seats cost $18,000 and that to justify such a large investment a member must make at least $900 a year in commissions, figuring at 5 per cent. At the present rate of business this cannot be done," the article said.

LOST OR DISCARDED

One of the large mid-town hotels set its statistics to work the other day compiling figures on articles lost and found in the inn.

Old Charts-and-Checks found that one out of every 40 guests leaves some personal belonging behind when he checks out. More than 10,000 articles—everything from false teeth to nursing bottles have been left in rooms by the 475,000 guests who have been in his trough. Nobody's on the leg!

PLEASE GO HOME!

The little Italian shoemaker round the corner has tacked a neatly-lettered sign, in his native language, in a prominent place on the wall above his work bench, between the two dazzling lithographs of the Messiah and Mussolini.

I was curious as to the nature of the sign. He translated it for me: "It's a says here," he began, "My dear fr'ens. This is-a my place where I make-a-de mon! It is quite-a small. When you all-a come an' sit for hours an' more, my clienty stay away because -a no room. They spend-a mon' so please, you will stay-away—kindly, as I am American business man. My dear fr'ens, I-a salute you." He turned to me and grinned.

"You-a know," he added, "no parking!"

TOUGH GUY

"A disturbing and terrifying book, to blast our smug complacency" is the on receiver characterizes Fred Pasley's newly released biography of Al Capone, "Tough Baby from Five Points," New York.

The disturbing and terrifying part is contained in Capone's knowledge that human nature being what it is, lays don't mean much in the face of "heavy kack."

Bill Shakespeare spoke about "offense's glided hand, shoving by justice."

Capone's version is every bit as vile.

"Who's on the legit?" asks Capone, surveying the officials with their feet accommodated at the caravansarie since its opening nine months ago.

A modern girl's pretty notion of heaven is Angel Gabriel honking outside while she powders her nose.—The Duluth Herald.

Dual Longevity Claim Of Brothers Cause Of Rivalry

Hess Brothers Start Something As Other Twins Declare Their Old Ages

(International News Service)

LANCASTER, Pa., Sept. 27.—When the Hess brothers of Lancaster publicly expressed their confidence that they were the oldest twins in this section of Pennsylvania they started something.

The Hess brothers are 72. Now comes James Benner, Civil War veteran of Quarryville, and his sister, Mrs. Louisa Helm, to claim the county's title for dual longevity. They look on the Hesses as mere youngsters from their vantage point of 82 years.

With the friendly rivalry manifested, interest in the question has been widespread in the county. And indications point toward unusual activity in digging up twins who have at least lived three-quarters of a century to bestow the old age title on them.

"Ability to say the right thing insures success," says an ad. It isn't hard to learn, either, just the three words: "That's right, boss."

Baby's Food Needs Plenty Of Fuel

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

The baby is a very high powered digestive machine.

Its body needs fuel, fuel, fuel—all the time, day and night. The baby's body is very much of a going concern—like an ocean liner, or a racing car. "Give me more energy," it cries to its stomach and intestine. "More gas! More gas!"

The little thing's stomach and bowels have to keep churning up energy for this bustling, growing organism at the highest possible pressure. Hence they are taxed to the limit of capacity far more nearly than the adult's stomach.

The digestive system of the baby is, however, not capable of taking care of a large variety of foods. Milk is about the only thing its functions are adapted for several months. It can digest good mother's milk splendidly—cow's milk it does not digest so easily and the limits of its capacity for cow's milk are somewhat smaller. Sugar it utilizes very well.

A calm baby is likely to be a healthy baby. The amount of secretion of the stomach digestive juices in the baby is quickly reduced by pain or fright or other emotional experiences.

A kindly but bony old aunt, with spectacles and false teeth, poking a long forefinger at the baby and saying "Eehee, eehee, e-e-e-e-e" in a rising crescendo, may dry the poor little thing up like the Mojave desert.

Fever and hot weather may do the same thing. It is always important to try to keep the baby reasonably cool.

The baby's stomach and bowel juices are much the same as the adults. The major portion of digestion occurs in the small intestine. It is carried on by the secretions, especially of the pancreas, partly of the liver and intestinal juices.

A good index of healthy digestion in infancy is the condition of the stools. The healthy baby has two to four bowel movements a day. Babies fed on cow's milk usually have fewer bowel movements than those fed on mother's milk. But there is no hard and fast rule about the number of stools in infancy. Some perfectly healthy babies pass only one stool a day, and others as many as seven or eight.

A healthy infant stool should be soft, golden yellow or greenish in color, acid in reaction, with a sour but not a repulsive odor. Lumps in the stool usually mean incomplete digestion, generally of the protein portions of the food. Mucous is present normally in small amounts. It is increased in proportion to the amount of intestinal irritation. Thus, whenever the digestion is disarranged, increased amounts of mucous are likely to be present in the stool.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Clendenning cannot diagnose or give personal answers to letters from readers. Where questions are of general interest, however, they will be taken up, in order, in the daily column. Address your queries to Dr. Logan Clendenning, care of this paper. Diphtheria Toxin Find Now Claimed By Pittsburghers

Doctors Claim To Be Able To Slightly Weaken Deadly Diphtheria Bacillus

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Sept. 27.—A new diphtheria toxin is the discovery claimed by two Pittsburgh scientists who believe their investigations will add an important chapter to knowledge of a field as yet comparatively little explored by medical science.

Working with extremely low wave length radio waves, the scientists—Dr. Wacław T. Szymanski and Dr. Robert Alan Hicks of the West Penn Hospital Institute of Pathology—claim to be able to weaken slightly the deadly poison of diphtheria bacillus.

The most important immediate accomplishment, according to the doctors, has been to shut off the influence of temperatures, thus proving that the reaction on the toxin resulted from some as yet unknown activity of the radio waves.

The ultimate effect they hope, will be to develop an irradiated toxin as an immunizing agent. This, they readily admit, will probably be accomplished only at some far-future date.

Explaining their researches the scientists said:

"The experiments have been made on diphtheria toxins in test tubes kept at 20 degrees or cooler at all times. Temperature gauges enabled us to note any rise in temperature. The test-tube was ice-cooled throughout the time it was between the contact plates of the high frequency apparatus."

"We believe this is the first experiment which definitely proves that the effect of the high frequency treatment could not have been due to temperature. So far, the reaction to these tests has been relatively small."

In the first experiments wave lengths were 1.9 metres but more recent tests have been made with wave lengths of 38 metres. Proof of the effects of the waves has been made by injecting some of the treated toxin into guinea pig and noting absence of reaction, in contrast to the positive skin test which the germs would have otherwise produced.

Science Expected To Score Victory Over Old King Sol

Artificial Sunlights Soon To Be Produced On Big Scale, Says Dr. Luckiesh

(International News Service) CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 27.—Victory in a battle with the sun was forecast here by Dr. Matthew Luckiesh, director of a lighting research laboratory, in his prediction that artificial sunlight will soon be produced on a large scale.

Dr. Luckiesh scoffed at the strides electric lighting has made in the past score of years and declared such progress will appear insignificant when artificial sunlight, equal in all properties to that of the sun itself, will be loosed upon the world.

According to data, evidence and sources collected by the Cleveland expert, it will soon be possible to transform the night into brightest day. Sunlight, in immense quantities, will be produced in any intensity and for any length of time, he predicted.

Such production, Dr. Luckiesh stated, is fraught with possibilities. Spread over crowded tenement sections of great cities, artificial sunlight would be an aid in wiping out diseases and in the rejuvenation of undernourished, sickly children who do not get enough sunlight. Agriculture might be placed on a 24-hour basis, with food plants growing day and night.

Increased hours of play and recreational activity might be within the reach of all, if the calculations of the research experts result in concrete effects.

E. L. F. Girls At R. Phelps Home

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 27.—Miss Ruth Phelps of Fourth street entertained the E. L. F. club in her home last night. The evening was enjoyed with games of bridge and at a late hour refreshments were served by the hostess.

Club members present were Dorothy Hill, Thelma Wilson, Jane Stevenson, Betty Nickum, Peggy Magee, Katherine Cooper and Grace Myrtle Hartung.

Bob-O-Link Scouts Have Big Meeting

Girl Scout Troop Plans For Interesting Supper; Hike

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 27.—Members of the Bob-O-Link troop of girl scouts met last night in the Methodist Episcopal church for their regular meeting with Mrs. Mary Beegle their captain in charge.

Seven new members were taken into the group last night. During the meeting patrol corners were assembled followed by a horse-shoe formation at which time dues were presented to the treasurer.

Plans were made for a bake-sale at Yahn and Jones' hardware store.

Study groups were organized with six girls to a group. Frances Haydel was in charge of the group on signaling. Three groups of tenderfoot scouts were in charge of second class scouts.

Betty Pearson, Julia McLaughlin and the scout captain.

The same period followed with a train wreck, dramatized. Sound period was conducted by the various patrols.

Mrs. John Houch, commissioner was a special guest of the meeting.

The meeting was concluded with the first girl scout law, the half salute and good night circle.

Plans have been made for a supper hike at which time Betty Pearson who is working on her cooking badge, will cook the supper. Patrol 1, will be in charge of fire building; patrol 2, wood-gathering; patrol 3, cleanup squad.

The Nightengale troop of scouts is planning for an outdoor meeting Monday night.

Priscilla Kensington Club Meets On Friday

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 27.—Members of the Priscilla Kensington Club were delightfully entertained at the home of Mrs. George Wilson of Wayne avenue Friday afternoon.

Following the afternoon hours devoted to fancywork, a dainty luncheon was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Thomas Douds.

Other guests of the occasion included Mesdames Clyde Hill, Robert Curry, Charles Carlson, Derry Porter, C. M. Marshall and H. R. Smith.

Mrs. Douds will entertain the club at her home in Glen avenue in two weeks.

Mrs. J. B. Wharton In Auto Accident

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 27.—Mrs. J. B. Wharton a former resident of Ellwood City, now living in Ingomar is in the Allegheny General hospital with a number of bruises and badly shaken as a result of a motor accident Thursday night.

Mrs. Wharton with her husband and a friend were coming from Ambridge into Pittsburgh, when their car was side-swiped and practically ruined.

Mrs. Wharton was the only occupant of the car and was removed to the hospital immediately. She expects to be released sometime today.

Novel Entertainment Enjoyed By Ladies Of G.A.R. On Friday

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 27.—Following the regular business meeting last night the ladies of the G. A. R. assembled in the Pythian Hall for stunts, games and contests provided by the committee including Mrs. Robert Streeter and Mrs. Landis Rueloff.

Mrs. Bert Hartung received the door prize for the lucky number which was indeed a washer as advertised, (a tin washer tied to a card with a string). A number of stunts included a football game and guessing contests. Following the jolly program luncheon was served by the evening's hostesses, Mrs. Albert Graham and Mrs. R. A. Long.

Plans were made at the meeting last night for a masquerade party to take the place of the next meeting. Mrs. Joseph Moorhead will be chairman of the entertainment for that occasion.

Tentative plans were also in order for a fish fry in November.

Turn Back Local Clocks On Sunday

After Season Of Daylight Saving Time, Ellwood Will Turn Clocks Back At 1 O'clock

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 27.—Ellwood City will conform with Pittsburgh and turn its clocks back one hour at 1 o'clock Sunday morning.

At least people who have formed a perfect alibi as a result of that lost hour of sleep, will have an opportunity to get caught up and get in that hour, which has caused so much distress.

The clocks have been turned to daylight saving time during the summer months when it was more convenient for mills to operate while the day was yet cool and gave their men an opportunity to enjoy a longer evening.

A number of cities in the vicinity of Ellwood found it convenient to return to eastern standard time when their schools started, but Ellwood has continued on the daylight saving time in accord with the time by which the men worked at the National Tube Company, the same as that used by the company in Pittsburgh.

New Castle High Defeats Grove City, 24-0

McAuley Stars In Second Victory For Local High Eleven

Red And Black Machine Proves Too Powerful For Light Grove City Eleven; McAuley Makes Two Spectacular Runs For Touchdowns; Fabian, Lasky, Also Cross Goal Line; 5,000 Fans Witness Second Grid Attraction Of Season.

Displaying some improvement over the showing made in the opening game of the season, the New Castle High School football team defeated a light but plucky Grove City High eleven at Taggart Field on Friday night, in the second victory of the season. The final score was 24-0.

Captain "Regis" McAuley made two spectacular runs, one of 18 yards and another of 45 yards which accounted for two of the New Castle touchdowns to prove the outstanding star of the contest. A crowd of 5,000 fans saw the contest.

The local high eleven looked somewhat improved over last Friday night when the team defeated the Coraopolis gridders in the opening game of the season. The backfield appeared to harmonize better. The line last night seemed to have things their own way holding the Grove City crew in check throughout the tilt. This is shown by the fact the visitors scored only one first down while the red and black warriors accounted for 14.

Two Regulars Out.

New Castle took its place on the field minus two regulars who started the initial game. Mike DeCarbo, who sustained a strained nerve on his right arm, was missing on the varsity lineup at guard and Robert Jamison at left end was also missing. DeCarbo entered the encounter but Jamison, who is suffering with an infected jaw, was unable to enter the contest.

New Castle scored the first of the four touchdowns in the first quarter. After Steve Janovick, a new man, had blocked an attempted punt by Grove City and New Castle ran the ball to a scoring position, the locals received a 15-yard penalty for holding. On the next play a pass, Fred Fabian to Captain McAuley to Lasky, gave the latter the pigskin on the 12-yard line and he raced over for the first touchdown of the game. The heavy was a beautiful throw from the 32-yard line, with Lasky making a nice catch. McAuley tried to drop kick the ball for the extra point but failed.

McAuley Scores Twice.

The second quarter provided the most thrills of the game when Captain McAuley broke loose for two spectacular runs which added two more touchdowns to the New Castle array. He scored the first when he made a beautiful throw from the 18-yard line and he snatched the ball and broke loose from the 18-yard line over the visitors' goal.

His other touchdown was scored shortly after his 18-yard run. Crisci recovered a Grove City fumble on the 45-yard mark. Captain McAuley by zig-zagging his way through the Grove City line and backfield broke loose for a pretty 45-yard run over the goal line to give New Castle its third touchdown of the game.

Fabian Scores Final Tally.

Fred Fabian, the plugging fullback, scored the fourth and final touchdown of the game by sliding through center from the two-yard mark in the third quarter. It was late in the third quarter, after McAuley broke loose from the 38-yard line for another run of 33 yards and had carried the ball to the 5-yard mark by breaking through left. Lasky added two more yards. Fabian on two plunges then carried the pigskin over the opponents' goal for this final touchdown.

Lasky carried the ball over the goal line later but it was ruled out as a touchdown by the officials as New Castle was offside. Many substitutes for both elevens saw action in the latter part of the contest.

Grove City never threatened to score on New Castle. The visitors, who proved to be a fighting team from start to finish, never quit trying. But the New Castle lads were too much in weight. Most of the gridders on the visiting team are green. Coach Joe Hartman, who coaches the visitors and who is a local boy, should

For New Castle the playing of Steve Janovick and William Ciccone on the line was noticeable while in the backfield the local combination looked good with McAuley taking the leading role. Sproul and Spence proved the outstanding gridders for the Grove City machine. The crowd, which was 5,000, was small due to the weather, which threatened rain.

Dickey Will Be Toastmaster For Mushball Dinner

New Castle Mushball League To Stage Banquet At Y. M. C. A. On Monday Night

Attorney T. W. Dickey today accepted the post as toastmaster for the New Castle mushball league banquet to be held at the Y. M. C. A. on Monday evening at 6:30 o'clock. Indications point to perhaps 75 or 100 mushball players sitting down to the fine feast that has been selected.

Bart Richards of The News, a member of the state legislature, will be the principal speaker of the evening. President Charles "Bugs" Walther will present the cup to the Wampum team for winning the championship. A business meeting of the league will follow the banquet. Election of officers for next year will take place and an effort will be made to get some kind of an organization rolling.

Tickets are being sold by the various managers of the teams. The banquet is open to all friends of the mushball players who care to attend.

Duquesne Tops Slippery Rock

Duquesne Defeats Slippery Rock Teachers College 27 To 0

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 27.—Coach Elmer Layden following the West Virginia setback last week, decided to switch the varsity players and see if better results could not be obtained, and his conviction was borne out last night at Forbes Field, when the Duquesne "Night Riders" defeated Slippery Rock Teachers College 27 to 0.

For the first quarter the Slippery Rock team held the Dukes even with nobody doing any scoring. In the second quarter the Dukes sent ten varsity men to the field to replace the second team, and then things started to happen. It was not long until Doggo Burns slid over for the first touchdown, and then to prove to the small sized crowd that it was not a fluke slipped around and made another touchdown. The first half ended 14 to 0 with the Dukes leading.

Slippery Rock picked up a little fight between halves and when hostilities were resumed at the start of the second half it really looked like another Slippery Rock crew, anyhow. Teachers held the Dukes to a lone touchdown this half, with Christina scoring. Gandy Benedict accounted for the final marker in the fourth quarter.

It was a valiant fight that the Teachers put up, but they were outweighed and out-experienced by the Layden machine.

Mandell Beats Tommy Herman

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Sept. 27.—Sammy Mandell heartened by his decisive victory over Tommy Herman, laid plans to day for a comeback conquest in the welterweight division with the championship as his goal.

After a shaky start the former lightweight king suddenly found his stride last night and had the best of Herman in all eight rounds. The bout was held at the Coliseum.

Five Of Big Ten Teams In Action

Indiana, Michigan, Ohio State And Minnesota Start Season Today

CHICAGO, Sept. 27.—Five Big Ten football teams open the 1930 grid season in the middle west today in practice games against non-conference opponents. Next Saturday will see the other five squads in action.

Miami University of Oxford, O., furnishes the opposition today for Indiana. Iowa University, not in the running this year as a conference contender, meets Bradley Tech in a game which is expected to show Iowa's strength. Michigan has scheduled a double-header to test the power of its 1930 machine. The Michigan squad meets both Denison college and Michigan State Normal.

The Ohio State eleven clashes with Mount Union at Columbus while Minnesota's potentially powerful team takes on South Dakota State at Minneapolis. Scrimmage was on today's program for the other five conference teams.

McClure Captures Cambridge Tourney

(International News Service)
CAMBRIDGE SPRINGS, Pa., Sept. 27.—George McClure, Pittsburgh golfer, today was renowned champion of northwestern Pennsylvania golfers. He disposed of Ben Krafter, Titusville contestant, in the final round of play yesterday afternoon with a spanking 4 to 2 victory.

McClure earned his way into the championship match only after a terrific 20-hole struggle with Sam Parks, Jr., fellow Pittsburgher and medalist of the tournament.

Krafter easily disposed of Guy McCall, Buffalo public links star, by a score of 3 and 2 in the morning semi-final assignments.

None of yesterday's three matches, the two semi-final and the championship games, produced outstanding golf such as featured the opening rounds of the meet.

Rain Threatens Game; But Crowd Hangs On As New Castle Wins

It isn't hard to enjoy a football game when the night is clear and balmy and the stars seem to be just out of reach, and you can sit there in a summer suit and be comfortable. But when the rain traces out a crazy quilt design down the back of your neck, and the wind blows smack dab into your face, and your next door neighbor or nearly impales an eye on the snout of his umbrella, that's when it takes a real football fan to enjoy the game.

Granite spirits quail on such a night, and only strong characters survive. But the ones who do survive, enjoy the game. Let it be a good game or a poor one, a fast game or a slow one, your genuine football fan enjoys it, and let the elements do what they jolly well please.

A Bit Moist.

Friday night's game was nearly one of those moist exhibitions that tries men's souls. For nearly one half of the game it seemed a question whether to stay and get wet, or leave and let the Grove City team get soaked. The rain started in the second quarter in that determined fashion that marks an all night drenching, and in a moment or so Taggart Stadium looked like an advertisement for an umbrella house.

Out on the field the players pretended they didn't mind the rain, but you can't fool an old trapper. That white enameled ball, plastered with rain was as easy to handle as a greased pig, and those fumbles you saw, on both sides, were caused not by any stupidity on the part of the lads, but because the ball was wet.

New Castle won, by a 24-0 score, but it really is nothing to call out the reserves about. Joe Hartman's boys were minus a number of regulars who should have been in the lineup, but weren't, due to scholastic requirements. New Castle had a larger, better equipped team, and had the locals lost Friday night, a senatorial investigation would have been in order.

Music Features.

If you were looking for features Friday evening, the music took top money, although you had to rise up now and then and add to the strained tonal list cheering for Red Mc-

Twenty Thousand To Watch Yale In First Grid Game

Yale And Maine Battle Today In Yale Bowl In Start Of 1930 Campaign

(International News Service)
NEW HAVEN, Sept. 27.—Twenty thousand people will see Yale's varsity football team open its 1930 season in the bowl here this afternoon in game with University of Maine that starts Yale's first nine-game schedule in eight years. Maine appeared here last in 1928 when it was beaten 27 to 0.

A team of unknown qualities will represent Yale in the bowl during the first game of the year. A month of spring practice followed by ten days of fall practice largely under tutelage of "Benny" Friedman, former University of Michigan star, handling the backs, and Adam Walsh, former Notre Dame star, attending to the line, still leaves Dr. Marvin A. Stevens, head coach, Seeking a team that will stand the gaff of an unusually hard schedule. In practice however, a tentative first line eleven has held a second team scoreless in half a dozen practice games while it has rolled up fair scores.

Rochester Wins From Louisville, Evening Up Series

(International News Service)
ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sept. 27.—The little world's series stood at one game each today, Rochester defeating Louisville yesterday 8 to 1.

Brilliant hurling by John Berly won for the Irrational league champions. Red Brown, Rochester third baseman, led in the hitting attack for the winners, getting four safeties. Wilkinson started for the Colonels but was taken out in the eighth, Penner replacing him.

Gridiron Gossip

This afternoon will tell the tale, it will prove to a football-eyed populace what the sport writers have been trying to prove for a long time now, that Ypsanti is good, that dear old Swish has a great eleven, and so on down the line. Today is the test.

When Westminster and Edinboro tangle today at New Wilmington, one of the Edinboro guards, will be playing on familiar soil. He is Harold Benninghoff of Meadville, star guard and senior at Edinboro. Benninghoff was in camp with the Titan for two weeks four years ago and didn't like it very well, so he decided to enter Edinboro. Coach "Sax" Harrison considers Benninghoff one of his ranking stars. The youngster will see a changed Westminster picture.

Geneva College is playing Bucknell today at Lewisburg. Next Friday night the Covenanters are at home again with Canisius the opponents in a night game at the Reeves Field. Thiel will follow the Canisius game for the Harpster coached team.

The Pitt team has another soft game for next week. Meeting Western Reserve at Cleveland. The Pitt team should take the measure of the Waynesburg Yellow Jackets today without breaking much of a sweat.

Thiel either has a good team this year or less. Temple is very weak one of the two, anyhow, the Thiel College boys riding the rattlers back to Greenville today with a moral victory under the covers. Temple only bested them 13 to 6, and which is not so very big a margin. Last year Temple beat Thiel 25 to 0. Thiel may give the Tri-state something to look at this season. Frank Leonard, a New Castle boy, captains the Thiel team this year.

Cardinals Win National League

St. Louis Cardinals Defeat Pirates And Take National League Pennant

JESS HAINES IS WINNING HURLER

By COPELAND C. BURG

International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—"The owners of the St. Louis Cardinals are cockoo—that's what every baseball fan from New York to San Francisco said this spring when Gabby Street took over the management of the Redbirds. And so today these same fans were saying: 'I told you so—Gabby Street is a wonderful manager.'"

And so he is. In the first place he is the first manager, since Branch Rickey of 1925, to last with the Cardinals more than a year. Secondly, he took a bunch of cripples 12 games behind in early August and spurred them in the National League title yesterday as St. Louis defeated the Pirates 10 to 5. Street was a Cardinal coach last year. Few win pennants in their first year piloting a major league team.

The Redbirds' victory that won the pennant rested on the veteran shoulders of Jess Haines, who out-hurled Brame of the Pirates, allowing only eight hits.

Chicago's second-place Cubs downed the Reds 7 to 5 as Hack Wilson, premier batsman, hit his homer No. 54.

Athletics Win.

A rookie Athletics team snatched a 7 to 6 victory from the Yankees on a double by Simmons in the ninth. Simmons got two hits in all and Lou Gehrig none. Simmons taking the lead in the race for American League stick honors.

Ted Lyons gave the Tigers only five safeties, and then punched a homer to win for the White Sox, 3 to 1.

Milton Gaston of the Red Sox humbled the Senators, his former teammates as Boston flattened Washington, 7 to 1. The victory cost Mr. Hadley of the Senators $500 for he was pitching his first game over his fifth anniversary calling for a half a century bonus if he won.

Interest in today's games centered in the Brooklyn-New York fight for third place. The Giants play Philadelphia and Brooklyn takes on Boston.

Last Nights Fights

AT CHICAGO—Sammy Mandell former lightweight champion, won decision from Tommy Herman, Chicago welterweight (8).

Tuffy O'Dowd, Pocastello, Ida., defeated Ted Ross, Chicago (8).

Harry Fierro, Chicago bantamweight, fought draw with George Nate, South Bend, Ind., (8).

Reider and Cuba, former New Castle High stars may break into the lineup.

Ralph Day, former New Castle High and Grove City College grid star is back in school at Grove City, but is ineligible for football this year. Day will be a big help to the track team in the spring however. Day was accompanied to Grove City by Charles "Horse" Gillium, former New Castle High and Grove City basketball star.

The Duquesne Dukes showed a little better offensive punch last night as they defeated the Slippery Rock Teachers College team. Nickie DeCarbo, former New Castle boy started as a guard for the Dukes. Next Friday night the Dukes will play Detroit Institute of Technology at Forbes Field. This is a night game. Last year the Dukes only bested the Teachers 12 to 0.

Thiel either has a good team this year or less. Temple is very weak one of the two, anyhow, the Thiel College boys riding the rattlers back to Greenville today with a moral victory under the covers. Temple only bested them 13 to 6, and which is not so very big a margin. Last year Temple beat Thiel 25 to 0. Thiel may give the Tri-state something to look at this season. Frank Leonard, a New Castle boy, captains the Thiel team this year.

Campolo Refuses To Meet Sharkey

South American Refuses To Accept Fight With Sharkey In Madison Square Garden

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—Vic Campolo stamped his foot today and set his face toward his native Argentine. He refused to fight Jack Sharkey of Boston in an indoors bout and consequently the affair was definitely canceled. It was first scheduled in Yankee stadium September 25 and then announced for Madison Square Garden on October 3. Campolo declined the latter arrangement.

The Argentine heavyweight said he had been summoned to meet George Adre of Philadelphia in Buenos Aires next month. He expects to sail within a few days.

Trial Of System At Field Concluded

No Decision As Yet On Retention Of Amplifier System At Taggart Field

Whether or not the public address system which has been used at Taggart Field for the past two football games of the season to describe the plays to the fans by method of loud speakers will be purchased is not known.

It was decided at the start of the season Manager Gardner said that this system would be given a two game tryout and then it would be decided whether or not the local high school would purchase the system permanently. Some people speak well for the system while, many others would rather have the scoreboard. Many state that some times the plays are heard while at other times they can not be heard.

Charles "Horse" Gillium has been doing the announcing for the past two games.

Arnold And Litz Plan For Race

(International News Service)
ALTOONA, Pa., Sept. 27.—What looms as "the speed race of the century"—Billy Arnold, youthful Chicago race driver and national champion for 1930, versus "Deacon" Litz, DuBois racer, will be run on the Altoona speedway October 11, it was announced today.

Arnold's formal acceptance of Litz's challenge came less than a month after the DuBois racer declared Arnold won a "fluke" victory on Labor Day when he dashed home a winner on the 83rd lap of a scheduled 200-mile classic. The race was called when rain made the going dangerous. Litz claimed after the race that he would have beaten Billy had the race been completed.

Officials indicated that one-man cars with super chargers will be used in the October event.

Jones And Homans Fight It Out For Amateur Golf Toga

Bobby Jones, Atlanta Wizard May Win Fourth Title In Match Today

Will Be First Man In History Of Golf To Take All Four Major Titles

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 27.—Mr. Jones, who plays golf, will play 36 holes of it today and by the time he is finished he will have every honor within the gift of competitive golf.

Mr. Jones will meet Eugene Van derpool Homans, who is named for a golf official who will do him no good today, and at the end of 36 holes, or as many holes as are required for the operation, Mr. Jones will be named the winner of the National Amateur Golf championship, just as he was so named in 1924, 1925, 1927, and 1928. In other words, Mr. Jones is that kind of a golfer.

Seeks Fourth Title

Finalist for this tournament, he was aiming at his fourth national championship of the year and the twelfth of his life. He was aiming at perfection and every indication was that he would achieve this estate. If he wins today, this certain Mr. Jones will cash for many friends and some visiting plumbers a 50 to 1 bet which has been riding against his ability to do the thing that only Jones can do.

He won the amateur championship of Great Britain for the first time in May. He won the British open championship in June. He won the open championship of America in July. Now, in September, there doesn't seem to be the slightest chance that he won't win the amateur championship of America before nightfall and thus attain heights never before attained by any golfer.

Sweetest Subdued

For some reason, or as a matter of fact for plenty of reasons, Jones was thought to be an absolute cinch for this final round today. They said that Gene Homans didn't have the golf to match stroke for stroke with the sorcerer of the links for 36 holes. Actually, Jones was supposed to be beatable at eighteen holes; at 36 there wasn't supposed to be the slightest contest, and truth to relate, this idea was sustained almost in toto and ipso facto yesterday when Jess Sweetser, a fighting ex-champion if ever there was one, was defeated by Jones, 9 up and 8 to play, in a match which showed Jones only as a golfer who could and did shoot one stroke better than par for the 28 holes required to subdue Mr. Sweetser.

Aliquippa Ties Charleroi, 6-6

Aliquippa High school which meets New Castle High on next Friday night at Targart Field pulled a surprise on Friday by holding the strong Charleroi High eleven to a 6-6 tie.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

By defeating Pittsburgh Pirates yesterday the St. Louis Cardinals captured the National League flag. And the next problem that confronts the fans will be the question of who will win the world series, Cardinals or Athletics.

Bessemer will go into their first game of the season at home today. Lowellville will furnish the opposition. Coach Fredericks of Bessemer expects a hard game. He says the eleven compare evenly.

Billy Arnold, national auto race champion and Deacon Litz, DuBois, speed star will race off their rivalry on the Altoona speedway, October 11. Litz had charged he would have beaten Arnold if the Labor Day event hadn't been cut.

Hack Wilson of the Chicago Cubs turned out his fifty-fourth home run when the Cubs and Reds played at Chicago yesterday. It was Hack's bat that clinched second place for the Cubs in the League race.

Bobby Jones and Eugene Homans will meet today for the National amateur crown. Jones defeated Jess Sweetser 9 to 8. Homans won from Charley Weaver one up. Both matches sparked with good golf.

Al Scarazzo will tender a banquet to the members of the Scarazzo baseball team tonight at the Tigers Club. The team made a splendid record and in the series for the city championship defeated the Mahoning A. A.

Slippery Rock failed to come through against the Dukes last night at Pittsburgh. The Dukes won 27 to 0. Slippery Rock leaped into the limelight by beating Waynesburg a week ago.

George McClure retained his northwestern Pennsylvania amateur golf championship at Cambridge Springs yesterday with a 4 to 2 victory over Ben Krafft of Titusville.

Sport Ritticisms

Probably the quickest way to collect on accident insurance now would be to remind Joe McCarthy that his old club, Louisville, won another pennant this year.

The passing out of the Chicago picture of Joe McCarthy indicates that the custom of removing pennant-winning managers is spreading. A very reassuring note for Mr. Burt Shotton, Mr. Heinie Wagner, et al.

Mr. Shotton's Phillies and Mr. Wagner's Red Sox have languished in the cellar so long they think seventh place is just a roof with the skylight locked.

You may now hang Mr. McCarthy's portrait right next to those of Rogers Hornsby and Bill McKechnie, two other lads who had the thrill of feeling the trap door give way as they were being crowned with the laurel wreaths.

If winning pennants is a "crime" something must be done immediately about Connie Mack, the scamp! He's an eighth offender.

Skull Crushed By Kick Of Horse

ALIQUIPPA, Sept. 27.—Kicked in the head by a horse, Ivan Newell, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Newell, of New Sheffield was taken to the Rochester General hospital with a fractured skull. His condition is reported serious. The accident occurred at the home of the boy's aunt, Mrs. Swink, Brodhead road.

World Series Sizeup

Outfielders

By JACK SORDS
Central Press Sports Artist

Because Al Simmons happens to be in the Athletics' outfield Mr. John J. Fan is apt to labor under the delusion that Connie Mack's gardeners are a heftier hitting lot than the fly snappers employed by Gabby Street of the Cardinals, who will most likely be the Athletics' foes in the forthcoming world series.

However, such is decidedly not the case. The Cardinals have the edge in hitting strength in the outfield as well as in the infield. The Cards have been batting better than 310 as a team, while the A's have had trouble getting over the 290 mark.

Next And Last—Pitchers.

College Gridders Starting Today On Big 1930 Campaign

More Than 300 Football Teams Will Start Seasons Today

YALE TEAM IS PLAYING MAINE

By FRANK (BUCK) O'NEILL
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—Football's dress rehearsal was held a week ago, and this afternoon on the far flung borders of the nation's gridirons the great game of autumn starts in earnest.

More than 300 football teams will take the field today, from the sun-kissed slopes of California to where the boys are drinking another toast to brave old Maine. The Big Ten starts its preliminary schedule, and if you're interested Nacogodocnes plays San Marcos. The united southwest will sit up for radio flashes on the result of that one.

Yale vs. Maine
Yale will try to see if that loyal Maine men do little shouting over touchdowns. Yale men, they tell me, are wary about a few extra pounds that have grown on that hula-hipped individual, Albie Booth.

Well, if Yale runs to early season form, Booth may lose some of that weight today. Yale is the only one of the legendary trio of football monarchs to left piskin this afternoon. Lou Little will send his Columbia team on the field against Middlebury, and all New York is going to watch the contest with interest.

The ultra violent violets of New York University hope to chant a hymn of victory at the expense of Hobart before the shadow of the grim grey palisades falls softly over the Hudson.

Another college that is carrying a lot of interest this year is Manhattan. The Jaspers, coached by John Law, former star guard of Notre Dame, oppose Rider College.

Fordham-Baltimore
Fordham, one of the unbeaten eleven of last season, will start another year under the direction of Major Frank Cavanaugh playing Baltimore. The Rams last year played mighty interesting football, and made the best use of every element at their command.

The United States Military Academy, with Major Ralph Sasse in command of its football force, starts today against Boston University. There's a new deal on at West Point, big Biff Jones is off at Fort Sill, learning the advanced methods of artillery fire, and Sasse is putting in a new regime. The new mentor is a keen student of Glenn S. Warner's methods, and the Kaydets will operate this fall out of a double wing back formation.

Other Eastern games will see Dartmouth opening against Norwich, Brown opposes Rhode Island, Cornell meets Clarkson and the college of the City of New York plays Long Island University.

Syracuse starts in a night game, playing R. P. I.
Carnegie Tech clashes with Buffalo and Amherst tangles with Vermont.

FROM TEE TO GREEN

By ROY GROVE

One should consider Leo Diegel's golf methods more on the ultra-moderate scale rather than the unorthodox.

We might call Diegel's form an exaggeration of correct form. His wrists action, in putting, is a perfection of the pendulum stroke.

Diegel's form on the tee and with the iron is an example of perfected smoothness.

Note in the illustration the position on the feet (C) and right arm (B) and where the hands have been taken back for the top of the swing (as in A). This smoothness in coming back is executed throughout the stroke when coming into the ball. The wrists, with smooth timing, do the work.

To properly come into the tee shot, with plenty of power and speed, Diegel takes his stance with the ball about two inches ahead of the club and he sends the whip of the wrists through the shot.

Harrisville Wins Over Wilmington

College Town High School Boys Are Defeated At Harrisville 35-0

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Sept. 27.—New Wilmington high school football team journeyed to Harrisville yesterday afternoon where they opened the season by losing to the strong Harrisville team by the score of 35 to 0.

Harrisville won the toss and chose to kick with K. Myers receiving the ball on the 20 yard line. After three unsuccessful attempts to advance the ball the New Wilmington team was forced to punt and a bad pass from the center resulted in McMains being downed behind his goal line giving Harrisville two points. From this time on the game was all in Harrisville's hands.

The local team took a spurt in the second quarter and carried the ball down the field for 70 yards to the 1 foot line only to loose the ball after a five yard penalty for off side.

In the third quarter the local team again carried the ball to the four yard line where they were held for downs and this ended their scoring chances. The Harrisville team played a great game and their scoring came from end runs and forward passes, but they were unable to gain thru the New Wilmington line.

For Harrisville the playing of Brown, Gibson and Hillard was the best. The New Wilmington team failed to show any stars in the lineup but at times showed some good football. This is the second win of the season for Harrisville having defeated Rural Valley last week by the score of 13 to 0. Coach Ken Delehanty has assured the members of the local team that there will be plenty of work during the coming week.

The lineup:
Harrisville 35. N Wilmington 0.
Braham.....L.E.....Mitcheltree
Edwards.....C.....J. Sowash
Monk.....L.G.....B. McCrumb
Sloan.....C.....Gilliland
McCosbe.....R.G.....B. Myers

Officers Make Early Morning Home Visit

Lieutenant of Police, Peter Hillers and Officers Moore, Thomas and H. E. Richards, shortly after one o'clock this morning, armed with a search warrant, visited and searched the home of Mary Hammond, rear 1209 Cunningham avenue, arresting the proprietress and two gentlemen found in the place drinking beer.

The officers found two books of clearing house pool tickets, a pint of moonshine and some beer, they report. The woman was permitted to remain at home on account of her children and appeared before the

Tuttle Resigns Federal Position

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—Charles H. Tuttle, New York's Republican gubernatorial nominee, was released today from his duties as federal attorney for New York.

Last week he asked President Hoover to accept his resignation, "not later than November 16." Today he asked if his resignation would be accepted immediately and Mr. Hoover acquiesced.

A Different Men's Shop

Where you will feel quite at home

Here is a shop quite out of the ordinary. Accessories of the finest, thoughtfully and expertly chosen for you to choose from—tastefully displayed in a friendly little shop whose atmosphere is decidedly masculine. The harmonizing ensembles of shirt and tie pictured here are samples of the newest note in men's wear for Autumn and Fall.

A Special Offer

A beautiful broadcloth shirt, carefully tailored of a lustrous cloth—a matching tie, either plain color or small design—and a harmonizing handkerchief for the breast pocket. All three offered for $5.

An Institution for Your Benefit

New Castle Credit Exchange

The Credit Exchange is here to make credit accessible to those who are worthy of it and who pay their bills promptly.

But it also protects its members—250 leading merchants, professional men, banks, and public service corporations of this community—against the careless customer who is rated "too slow to be desirable" and the outright "dead beat" who doesn't pay because he is dishonest.

At the same time, it extends an earnest offer of help to all those who have been unable to meet their obligations for reasons beyond their control, and to those who have been a little careless without any wilful intent.

In the office of the Credit Exchange are more than 75,000 ratings.

Almost everybody in this vicinity is rated. How is your credit rating?

NEW YORK STOCKS
Stock Market Today
Is Very Unsettled

By W. S. COUSINS
International News Service Financial Editor

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—The Railroad, Copper and Utility stocks constituted the weakest section of an unsettled week-end market. Little relief in the form of either "banking support" or outside buying demand was provided for the Industrial stocks which have been under severe hammering since Monday, and slightly lower prices were quoted in the first hours for U. S. Steel, Radio, Radio Keith, Paramount, Westinghouse and other favorites. No encouragement was forthcoming from the grain markets, where Wheat tumbled an additional 2 cents a bushel. Corn reached 1 1/2 cents and Rye lost 2 1/2 cents.

Southern Railway's new 2 1/2 point dip to 78 1/2 featured the Rails. Aitchison broke about 3 points to 208 1/2. Pennsylvania was down 1 1/4 at 69 1/2, and losses of a point or less were recorded in other active Rail shares. Anaconda and Kennecott, in the Copper, declined a point each to new low levels at 37 1/2 and Kennecott to 28 1/2. The Standard Oils of New York and New Jersey settled down to new low price levels on the move, New Jersey losing 42 points at 60 1/4.

Wheat Sells At Lowest Price In
24-Year Period

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Sept. 27.—Wheat sold at its lowest price in 24 years on the Chicago Board of Trade today as brokers traded in a semi-demoralized market.

September wheat sold at 75 1/2 cents a bushel, the lowest price since 1906 when it sold for 69-1/8 cents. Lows were also recorded in December, March and May wheat deliveries.

After reaching the low point, buying by commission houses and short covering checked the drop and brought about a recovery. Oats and rye also sank to new low levels for the crop.

Demoralization of the Liverpool wheat market and continued liberal offerings of Russian cash grain brought the decline in wheat, market experts said.

Marriage Performed
By Woman Preacher

(International News Service)

Rev. Margaret Joshua, an ordained minister of this city and wife of the pastor of the First Methodist church officiated at a quiet wedding in the parsonage on Haus Avenue at 11 o'clock this morning, when she united in marriage a Mercer couple, James Alford Grundy and Marian Hazel Filer. They were attended by the groom's sister.

Rev. Joshua has the distinction of being the first woman minister in the state of Pennsylvania to perform a marriage and another has been added to her list this morning.

OSHSING, N. Y., Sept. 27.—For the fifth time in the 39 years that capital punishment has been in effect in New York, a convict waiting in the Sing Sing death house, had cheated the chair today. Anthony Mortello, 32, convicted of killing principal keeper Edward Beckwith at Auburn prison last fall, strangled himself last night.

Although a guard was nearby, Mortello wound a towel around his neck tied it in place with a shoestring and twisted it until he had choked out his life. Clothing concealed the towel and passing guards thought he was asleep.

A note found in the cell said: "I am going to die tonight."

Adjutant General Beary Favors Troop F Armory

The armory building project of Troop F, recently spurred by activities of the troop while at camp, has again reached the limelight with the report by officers who conducted the military inspection here last week.

Two interesting letters, one from Maj. Samuel B. Wolfe, commander of the Second Squadron, 163rd Cavalry, to Adjutant General Frank D. Beary of Pennsylvania, and another from the Adjutant General to local officers reveal that Troop F is drawing interest among state military officers.

Adjutant General Beary declared that "results at New Castle have been so promising that I feel I can go before the state armory board and argue favorable consideration of the claims of New Castle."

Beary urged that the reports made by inspecting officers, Maj. Wolfe and Capt. James M. Shelton, cavalry instructor for upstate troops, have been very encouraging and the condition of the troop, horses and service in camp has been most gratifying.

Beary said he received reports which evidenced an awakened interest in the organization, a fact which more than pleased him.

"I believe Troop F has a splendid future and I will do all in my power to aid in increasing its efficiency," he wrote.

Maj. Wolfe, in reporting the inspection of Troop F to the Adjutant General, indicated he found continued progress, excellent drill attendance and loyal co-operation on the part of the civilian population.

"The drill was well conducted and the men were keenly interested," Maj. Wolfe wrote. He added:

"In addition to other things, the New Castle News gives the troop unlimited publicity in all its activities. Adjutant Beary wrote that it was the practice of the armory board in establishing military posts to house mounted units by building a modified army post, including administration buildings, stables, drill hall and ample room for outdoor military training.

MISSED 3 TIMES, CIDER IS CAUSE FOR 3 ARRESTED

(International News Service)

YORK, Pa., Sept. 27.—To have a barrel of cider stolen is a loss one may take more or less philosophically, according to J. S. Arnold, farmer near here.

But when the same barrel is stolen three times that's just a nuisance and an imposition on hospitality, Arnold holds, so he had three youths arrested.

He made the cider, Arnold told a justice of the peace, served some of it to 30 farmhands and set the barrel in the barn. It disappeared. He recovered it from a nearby woods, set it in the barn again.

Twice more it was spirited away, twice recovered. Then the arrests followed.

Andrews Sponsors Banquet Of Enon Valley Residents

Over 150 Gather At Meeting In Enon Valley Community
House Friday Evening

Over 150 Ford owners in the Enon Valley district were guests at a banquet held in the Enon Valley Community House last evening, sponsored by George Andrews, dealer in that district.

Pep singing was led by Richard E. Johns, while the main address of the evening was delivered by Attorney William Schutte of Beaver Falls. Other addresses were made by Rev. S. H. Barlette of New Wilmington, Rev. Williams of East Palestine, and Rev. Davidson of Enon Valley.

Informal talks were given by S. J. McRoberts of Blaw Knox, Pa. Dr. R. S. DeWalt of Columbiana, O.; R. S. Blackwood of Beaver Falls, C. H. McCluskey and E. J. Donal of the First National Bank of East Palestine.

Mr. Nelson, manager of the Pittsburgh district of the Ford company gave an interesting talk on Ford methods and stated that Mr. Andrews was one of five dealers in the Pittsburgh district who had sold their estimate for the year.

Merchants Protest Sales By Children

SHARON, Pa., Sept. 27.—Sharon merchants in general and grocers in particular are protesting against manufacturers using the public schools here as a distributing agency for merchandise and a committee from the Sharon Independent Grocers will present their complaint to the school board at the next regular meeting, scheduled for October 6.

The foundation for the complaint is the selling of a jelly compound by the children for the purpose of buying flags for the school rooms.

If all of the tin cans in America were placed end to end, you could realize what happens to unexpected guests.

This Great Production At The Penn Theatre All Next Week

Whirling along at a breath-taking speed! Whizzing ahead at a thrill-a-minute! And bang! You come up short against a tremendous climax. That's the feeling you'll get watching "Manslaughter" at the Penn theatre, when it opens Monday for a whole week's engagement.

Speed is the sensation that stands out most vividly as "Manslaughter" opens. Claudette Colbert, its capricious heroine, runs wild in an orgy of fast-driving, fast-living, careless, carefree, utterly selfish and thoughtless. You see her flying over the highways in a monster motor; flashing over the waves in a tilting aquaplane; dancing, loveling with reckless abandon. And then pulled up short by a tragedy caused by her own daring.

"Manslaughter" grips you: It's a story with an idea back of it, pictured vividly on the talking screen.

Claudette Colbert, beautiful, young, talented, endowed with great wealth and assured position, lives life riotously. Her every whim is a reality. She falls in love with Fredric March, but, when she cannot wind this handsome young district attorney around her frivolous fingers, she casts him off. Then the tragedy, and the district attorney is forced to prosecute this girl he loves for manslaughter. She goes to prison, vowing vengeance and there learns what life really means. She lives the drab routine of prison life where social distinction is unknown. Released she seeks her revenge on the man she once loved, and finds that her plans are only vengeance on herself.

Here is a strange mixture of love and hate in which love triumphs. Played superbly by Claudette Colbert, the wistful beauty who captivated people everywhere with her convincing performance in "Young Man of Manhattan," and by Fredric March, one of the outstanding contributions of the stage to the art of the talking screen.

"Manslaughter" in talking pictures is a new revelation in motion-stirring melodrama. It will be remembered. It gets under the skin.

Initial Issue Of "Ben Franklin" Is Published Friday

Well Written Issue Turned Out By Staff Of Student Editors, Scribes

Hot off the press with eight well made up pages of live school news, with a page of editorials, a page for jokes and another devoted to student-written stories. "The Ben Franklin" Franklin junior high school semi-monthly news-magazine appeared Friday.

An attractive frontispiece, made by the redmat process, adorns the front cover. Heretofore linoleum blocks were always used. The New Castle News co-operated with the school in making the stereotype plate.

The reportorial staff is made up entirely of students, with a board of faculty advisors in charge. Supervisors are Miss Reher, Miss Kimm, Miss Welch, Miss Warner, Mr. Hockenberry and Mr. Cox.

Thieves Get $300 Man Had Borrowed

AMBRIDGE, Pa., Sept. 27.—Thieves ransacked the confectionery store and home of Theo Barkowski, 601 Beaver road, and escaped with $442, police reported today.

Barkowski had borrowed $300 from his brother in McKees Rocks, but returned too late to put the money in the bank. He placed it with $100 more in a bank book in a dresser drawer. Thieves took the $400 and $22 more from the cash register.

Sticky Cement Used On Steps Sharpville Men

Hurt In Crash

SHARPSVILLE, Pa., Sept. 27.—Constable E. E. Watson, Sixteenth street, and Martin Nickle, Ridge avenue, were severely injured when the steering gear on Watson's car broke while they were driving near Burg Hill, O. The car left the road and overturned. Both men suffered deep cuts about their heads and bodies. The automobile was demolished.

A man was engaged in "pointing up" the stone steps on the Mercer street front of the post office Friday with "sticky cement". This kind of cement was poured into the cracks between the stones by the use of a gun that resembles the kind used to put frosting designs on a cake.

"Sticky cement" never gets real hard and is therefore ideal for use in pointing up stone steps.

It will be several days yet before the work on the lower exterior walls will be completed, according to one of the workmen.

"Legally Dead" Claims $10,000

Franklin Man Away 30 Years,
Returns To Claim
Bequest

FRANKLIN, Pa., Sept. 27.—A modern Rip Van Winkle story unfolded today when John W. Raymond, 70-year-old rancher, heir to a bequest of $10,000, arrived in Franklin. Officially declared "dead" five years ago, and away from Franklin for 30 years, Raymond's appearance came as a surprise.

The aged man, traveling from Missoula, Mont., here, was verging on collapse when he arrived and was taken to the hospital in a waiting ambulance.

Unable to talk for a time, his legs tottery, Raymond was identified by W. D. Doyle, oil lease owner. He nodded that he knew Doyle.

The bequest to which he is heir was left by Sarah J. Lamberton. All trace of the former Franklin man had been lost since he left in 1900. His own children did not know he was alive.

Should identification prove satisfactory to the Venango court, action declaring him legally dead will be rescinded and Raymond, most of whose life has been spent on a Montana ranch, will be presented with the $10,000.
